

HOUSING & RESIDENTIAL LIFE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Alcohol

Housing & Residential Life and the university comply with all federal, state, and municipal regulations regarding the sale, possession, and consumption of alcoholic beverages. UNLV Housing & Residential Life policies are intended to foster an atmosphere conducive to individual choice concerning the responsible consumption of alcohol. The misuse of alcohol, therefore, does not in any way limit the responsibility of residents for the consequences of their behavior.

In keeping with Nevada state law, only residents who are 21 years old or older may consume alcoholic beverages. Alcohol may be consumed only in the privacy of the resident's own room or in a room of another resident who is at least 21 years old. Residents under the age of 21 may not consume alcohol nor may alcohol be brought into an "underage room" — that is, a room in which either resident is under 21 years old.

The quantity of alcohol that may be brought into a room of a legal-aged resident is a quantity that would contribute to responsible personal use. Beer kegs, party balls, other bulk alcohol containers, and devices that are created for the rapid consumption of alcohol ("beer bongs") are prohibited in the residence halls. Possession of more than 24 12-ounce containers of beer, 1.89 liters of distilled spirits ("hard liquor"), or three 750 milliliters. bottles of wine in any one room constitutes a level of alcohol that promotes excessive alcohol consumption that can lead to community disruption and is, therefore, not permitted.

Alcohol is not permitted in common areas regardless of the age of the residents involved. Common areas include, but are not limited to, balconies, lounges, hallways, lobbies, elevators, and outside the buildings.

Underage residents who are found in possession of or are in the presence of alcohol or any resident who is in possession of alcohol in an underage room or in a common area will be required to immediately dispose of the alcohol. Violations of the alcohol policy will be addressed as prescribed in the Alcohol Violation Response Policy.

Alcohol Violation Response Policy

The misuse (underage drinking, drinking in unauthorized areas, etc.) and abuse of alcohol (drinking to an extent such that one's behavior and judgment are impaired or result in disruption of others) are the primary contributing factors to behavioral problems in the residence halls. The effects of alcohol misuse and abuse include excessive noise, interpersonal conflicts, and vandalism. The individual who misuses or abuses alcohol not only negatively affects the community but also endangers him/herself. This policy is designed, first, to assist the resident who, through the misuse or abuse of alcohol, is violating community standards and, second, to protect the community from the effects of the resident who continues to misuse or abuse alcohol.

1. Upon initial* alcohol-related violation of community standards and the university student Code of Conduct, the resident will be required to meet with the university judicial officer and will be assigned to complete an Alcohol Assessment On-Line Program. This program will cost the participant a minimal processing fee.
2. Upon a second* alcohol-related violation, the resident will be required to attend the University Alcohol Awareness Intervention Workshop. This three-hour workshop is designed to assist the resident in understanding his/her alcohol use behavior and make decisions regarding more appropriate behavior.
3. Upon a third* alcohol-related violation, the resident will be referred to Counseling and Psychological Services for a drug/alcohol assessment to determine if alcohol abuse counseling or other intervention is warranted. In addition, the resident will be required to comply with a behavioral contract designed to eliminate his/her use of alcohol within the residence hall community and to prevent him/her from being under the influence of alcohol in the residence hall community. The resident will pay the cost of the drug/alcohol assessment.
4. Should the prior efforts fail and another* alcohol-related violation occur, the resident will be considered to have no control over his/her behavior. Given the pattern of community violations and the need to prevent further violations, the resident will be presented with two options:
 - a. Enter an alcohol abuse treatment program and remain in treatment until self-control is regained.
 - b. Face contract termination.

Appliances

Fire hazards, personal injuries, and property damage can result from the use and storage of the following appliances in the residence halls: grills (BBQ or otherwise), stoves, hot plates, toaster ovens, space heaters, sun lamps, halogen lamps, and electric blankets. Therefore, these items are NOT allowed in the residence halls. Increased bug and rodent populations, food spoilage, and odors also result from trying to cook in residence hall rooms that are not equipped with adequate cooking facilities. Hot air poppers, coffee pots, and other appliances that have enclosed elements and Underwriter's Laboratory approval may be used in student rooms.

Behavior and Conduct

Your Residence and Dining Hall Contract outlines a set of behavioral conditions to adhere to during the duration of your contract. As a resident, you agree that "behavior that interferes with the quiet enjoyment of the premises by roommates, behavior that attempts to force a roommate to move out of a room, and behavior that discriminates against a current roommate or against a newly assigned occupant will be considered by the university to be sufficient grounds for reassigning the current occupants and taking disciplinary action." Furthermore, you have agreed that "occupancy of the assigned room is limited to residents assigned to that room, that the room will be used only as living space, and that the space will not be loaned to or occupied by persons not assigned to that space." Should you have questions about the behavioral expectations outlined in the UNLV Housing & Residential Life contract, please contact your Residential Life Coordinator.

Bicycles and Vehicles

Bicycles and vehicles, including gas or electric powered transportation cannot be stored anywhere in the residence halls (except those permitted through the Americans with Disabilities Act). During building evacuation, bicycles that are stored in the building can become obstacles, inhibiting a resident's ability to leave the building quickly and safely. Bicycle racks are located outside each residence hall. A sturdy locking device is recommended as protection against theft. You are also encouraged to register your bike with University Police. Housing & Residential Life residents are subject to the university's parking rules.

*While this policy is structured in a step-by-step sequence to provide the resident with the opportunity to learn from his/her choices and to accept the responsibility of those choices, the UNLV Office of Student Conduct and UNLV Housing & Residential Life retain the right to respond to the resident at whatever level and in whatever manner is appropriate, given the context of the situation.

Candles and Incense

The use and/or storage of candles or incense can result in injuries, fires, and property damage. Therefore, candles, incense, or other devices with an open flame are NOT permitted in the residence halls.

Consolidation

The Office of Housing and Residential Life seeks to efficiently and effectively utilize all available spaces in housing to accommodate the housing needs of all students. The purpose of the policy is to ensure spaces for incoming students and rectify the inequitable condition which exists when many students end up living alone (without roommates) in rooms traditionally designated as double rooms/suites. As such, the office reserves the right to utilize the following consolidation policy, as needed.

- After the traditional room change week each semester, at semester breaks, and in emergency situations, the Office of Housing & Residential Life reserves the right to consolidate students residing alone in multiple occupancy rooms. This means that a student, upon notification, may be required to vacate her/his room and move into another space on campus. This is an effort to use each room to its capacity.
- If at any time, a resident's roommate should move out, the remaining resident will be notified by the Office of Housing and Residential Life of their options which may include finding a new roommate or in some cases, opting to pay for a double-as-single room. Depending on the circumstances students will be given a specific amount of time to determine the option that is most fitting for their situation. Students opting to fill their vacancy will be offered assistance by the Office of Housing and Residential Life.
- HRL staff will coordinate an opportunity for students to meet other students who have been identified for consolidation.
- Should you be identified for consolidation with-in a few weeks of final exam period, you will need to keep your room half clean for the arrival of a new roommate at any time without notice.
- Any attempt on the part of the remaining student to discourage, refuse or intimidate a potential or newly assigned roommate is a violation of Housing & Residential Life policies. If the Office of Housing and Residential Life receives information that a resident is discouraging prospective roommates, the student may be subject to student conduct protocol. Should your room not be "roommate ready" at any time, you will be assessed the single room rate for the remainder of the semester.

- It is the intention of the Office of Housing and Residential Life to notify any remaining roommate of another person moving into a vacancy. However, under some circumstances (such as emergency moves or late admits) this notification may not be possible. It is best for students residing in rooms alone to stay in close contact with the Office of Housing and Residential Life about their circumstances.
- Students living in a room/suite with a vacancy will receive correspondence from the Office of Housing and Residential Life describing their options. Students required to move due to the consolidation policy will be required to move within seventy-two (72) hours of receipt of their e-mail.
- Generally, students will not be required to move into other buildings or other suite types. The Office of Housing and Residential Life will make efforts to keep students affected by the Consolidation Policy within the same building and floor (if available spaces exist).
- Students with vacancies are encouraged to seek out roommates or a new room/suite during the traditional Room Change Week period.

Controlled Substance Violation Response Policy (Drug Policy)

The storing, possessing, using, distributing, selling, bartering, manufacturing, exchanging, or giving away of controlled substances/drugs or the possession of drug paraphernalia as defined by the Nevada Revised Statutes is a violation of the UNLV Student Conduct Code. It has been well established that in locations where these activities occur, theft, assault, vandalism, and other crimes occur more frequently. The association between the presence of controlled substances/drugs and behaviors antithetical to a safe/secure living environment requires strong action to minimize the potential negative effect. Therefore, allegations of storing, possessing, using, distributing, selling, bartering, manufacturing, exchanging, or giving away controlled substances/drugs or the possession of drug paraphernalia will be thoroughly investigated according to the Student Conduct Code procedures. The student may face university disciplinary action as well as legal consequences. UNLV Housing & Residential Life has implemented a ZERO TOLERANCE POLICY in relation to these types of offenses. Allegations that can be substantiated will result in residence hall contract termination plus liquidated damages for the involved resident.

Fire Alarms

Smoke detectors, fire extinguishers, alarm pull stations, and fire alarm horns are there for resident safety in case of fire. Covering or tampering with safety and emergency equipment jeopardizes everyone's safety and is strictly prohibited. Allegations of tampering with fire equipment that can be substantiated will be referred to the UNLV Office of Student Conduct. In addition, the involved residents may face UNLV Housing & Residential Life action as well as legal consequences.

Furniture

Furniture in the lounges and study areas is provided for the benefit of all residents and is to remain in common areas. As outlined in your Residence and Dining Hall Contract, residents cannot move additional furniture into their rooms without permission from the UNLV Housing & Residential Life Office. Furthermore, residents agree to use common area equipment carefully and properly. Removal of lounge furniture from its original location is considered theft, and residents found in violation of this policy may be referred to the UNLV Housing & Residential Life Disciplinary System as well as the University Disciplinary System. In addition, residents are responsible for common area furniture damage and costs associated with moving the furniture back to its original location. Missing furniture may be recovered through announced room inspections.

Guests

Residents may invite guests into their residence halls, understanding that the host resident must escort the guest whenever he/she is in the building. Guests must adhere to all university rules and residence hall policies and procedures and the hosting resident is responsible for his/her guests' actions. It is the responsibility of the host to inform the guest of these rules. The host can be held financially responsible for the actions of the guest as well as face disciplinary action for the guest's behavior. In cases of misconduct, the guest may be removed from the residence hall and prohibited from returning. Roommates will determine when guests may visit the room (mediation by staff will occur if consensus can not be reached). Overnight visitation is allowed for no more than 3 days per month, with the approval of the roommate.

Residents of one residence hall are considered guests in all other residence halls and, therefore, must adhere to guest procedures.

Lost Keys/RebelCard

The safety of the residence halls is a primary concern for the UNLV Housing & Residential Life staff. Access to the residence halls is restricted in an effort to increase resident safety. Room access cards (your Rebel Card) provide access to residence hall rooms. A lost access card can provide a nonresident with access to a building community and room if the card is not reported missing. It is very important that lost room cards be reported immediately to the Complex Office so that security can be maintained. When reporting a lost card, your card's access will be revoked to ensure your room security.

If you lose your mailbox key, please report it lost immediately so a replacement can be ordered. Mail must be delivered through the mailbox, so the longer you wait to report the lost key, the longer you will have to wait for your mail. You are financially responsible for lock changes and replacements if keys are lost, stolen, or damaged.

Lounge and Common Area Use

Lounges and study areas are provided for the benefit of all residents. They are available for residents to use to hang out with friends, as meeting space, to watch TV, to study, or to play games. Due to the potential of personal injury, property damage, and noise, corridors and lounges are not to be used for sporting events or horseplay. Since lounges cannot be locked like room doors, residents or guests may not sleep in the lounges unless it is in conjunction with an official hall-sponsored event. Alcohol and smoking are not permitted in common areas. Furniture should not be removed from the lounges to be relocated to a resident's room, another floor, or outside of the building. Unapproved banners or displays may not be hung or affixed to the outside of a building or in interior public areas.

Meal Plan Changes

You may change your meal plan only one time per semester, until the first business day in November and/or April (due to the brevity of summer terms we do not offer meal plan change options). After that time, no change may be made for that semester. Approval is contingent upon the current meal balance and dining dollar balance. This change will become effective within one-two business days. A processing fee will be charged to change the meal plan. Meal Plan Change Forms are available at the UNLV Housing & Residential Life Office. Any additional fee or refund that may be due will be calculated based on the effective date of the change.

Meningitis Vaccination Requirement

In addition to the immunizations required for all UNLV students, state regulations require freshmen under 23 years of age to have an immunization for Neisseria meningitidis in order to reside in an on-Housing & Residential Life facility. Students must provide proof of the Neisseria meningitidis vaccine directly to the Office of Housing & Residential Life.

Pets

Safety and sanitary considerations prohibit the presence of pets in the residence halls. Except for fish, pets are prohibited from being inside residence halls. If a pet is found in the building, the responsible resident(s) will be asked to remove the pet within 24 hours. If the pet is not removed within the given time period, the residential life coordinator may have the pet removed. In addition, the responsible resident(s) will be charged for cleaning and any damages that were caused by the pet during its stay in the residence halls. Requests for service animals in the residence halls must be processed through the Disability Resource Center.

Quiet Hours & Courtesy Hours

All residential communities will have the opportunity to establish "Study Intensive" communities have 24-hour courtesy hours and have pre-set Quiet Hours from 10:00pm to 8:00am; residents in those communities may use the Floor Standards process to establish more restrictive Quiet Hours, but cannot choose less restrictive Quiet Hours than those pre-set. Residents who are not able to abide by these expectations may be moved to non-Study Intensive floors. During quiet hours, residents are responsible for maintaining a level of quiet such that sound, electronic or otherwise, shall not be heard outside the confines of their room. Failure to abide by listed or selected quiet hours can result in judicial action and potential removal for repeated offenses or a community response.

When quiet hours are not in effect, all of our communities have courtesy hours. During courtesy hours, residents are expected to maintain a level of quiet such that they are not disrupting others. Residents are expected to confront others if they are being disrupted; residents are also expected to respond to others' noise complaints by reducing the level of noise. Resident assistants or the community may mediate disputes involving courtesy hours.

Residence and Dining Hall Contract

All UNLV Housing & Residential Life residents have signed and agreed to the terms and conditions of the Residence and Dining Hall Contract for the entire academic year. Students who have housing contracts are expected to honor the provisions of those contracts to the fullest while living on campus. Be sure to read your contract and all of its terms and conditions carefully so that you will know what is expected of you.

Revised May 2011

Contract Duration

As stated in your contract, “the Residence and Dining Hall Contract is effective for the full academic year, fall and spring semester, or for such portion of the academic year as may remain at the time this contract is signed. The contract is binding on the university and on the resident for the entire term of contract and cannot be terminated except under the conditions cited in the contract.”

Contract Release

For information and conditions for contract releases, terminations, cancellations, and refunds, please refer to your Residence and Dining Hall Contract or contact the UNLV Housing & Residential Life Office. The Assistant Director of Housing Administration must approve all contract adjustments. A resident who moves out of a residence hall during the term of contract WITHOUT a release from contract obligations and remains enrolled at the university continues to be liable for residence hall room and board fees, which will accrue against his/her account whether or not services are taken.

Room Changes

You may request a room change during the third week of classes each semester. In order to request a room change, first discuss your request with your RA then obtain a Room Change Request Form. Complete the form and return it to your Complex Desk. You may need to schedule an appointment to meet with your Residential Life Coordinator to discuss your request. The nature of your request (that is, how restrictive you are in terms of where you want to live) and the number of room vacancies will determine how quickly your request can be honored. During periods of full occupancy, only mutual “room swaps” can be approved. Residents who change rooms without written permission will be required to move back to their original rooms and follow the proper room change procedures.

Student Conduct Code

The Board of Regents has defined the behavioral expectations for students as well as the procedures to be used when violations of these expectations occur. The code can be thought of as the university rules and disciplinary procedures. Please become familiar with the code so that you are aware of the rules that apply to you while living on campus. You may view the Student Conduct Code at studentlife.unlv.edu/judicial/index.html

Telecommunications Policies

You may not accept collect calls to your room nor may you bill calls to your room from other locations. If you accept a collect call or bill a call to your room from another location, a service fee will be added to the cost of the call. Residents of a room are responsible for all calls that occur from that room.

Weapons

The UNLV Dangerous Weapon Policy states: “Dangerous weapons will not be permitted on campus without the express written approval of the university director of Public Safety. This policy shall apply to all persons on the campus of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, except law enforcement officers in the performance of their duties.” The residence halls are on the university campus and, therefore, dangerous weapons as defined by Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS) 202.350 are not permitted in the residence halls. Residents found in possession of firearms or weapons of any type (real or facsimile) will be subject to UNLV Housing & Residential Life and university disciplinary action.

Copyright Policies and File Sharing

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

The University has recently received a large number of formal complaints regarding use of the University's network to download or upload copyrighted materials, including copyrighted videos, music, software and written material. The University is required to take these complaints very seriously, and to take steps to address any infringing activity. Failure to do so can potentially result in liability for the University itself. Additionally, any person using his or her University on-line access privileges to engage in the downloading, uploading, or other unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials is potentially at risk of becoming the target of a legal action for copyright infringement, in addition to any University imposed sanctions.

The Housing & Residential Life copyright policy states "Residents shall not violate the legal protection provided by copyrights, licenses, or other legal means. They shall not make copies of any licensed or copyrighted computer program found on any Housing & Residential Life or other UNLV computer or storage device. They shall not share with others: messages, information, or data that is private, licensed, proprietary, or covered by non-disclosure agreements." This includes but is not limited to video, music, software or any written material that you have not obtained permission to distribute.

When the University receives a complaint that implicates a student, sanctions may include immediate referral to UNLV Office of Student Conduct for disciplinary action under the UNLV Student Code of Conduct. Disciplinary sanctions imposed can include a requirement that the infringing material be removed and not further distributed, termination of on-line access privileges, educational projects, probation or others. Additional complaints may result in even more serious sanctions.

If you are currently using software that allows you to download or share material over the internet, only items you have permission to share may be shared or the sharing function must be disabled. Anytime peer to peer software is installed or updated it needs to be checked to make sure sharing functions are disabled for items you do not have permission to distribute.

To comply with these rules, you must complete the following steps as appropriate:

- Remove all copies of copyright protected files that you do not legally possess.
- Deny access to other people for those copyright protected files that you legally possess but do not have the right or permission to distribute (i.e. make them available for downloading).
- Disable file sharing access to your computer.
- Remove file sharing programs from your computer.

Directions for turning P2P sharing off:

http://security.uchicago.edu/peer-to-peer/no_fileshare.shtml

If you downloaded a P2P program and now want to get rid of it:

Microsoft Windows:

If a program has an "uninstaller" you should try to use that first. Some applications install "spyware" that will cause your computer to not access the Internet if they are removed by Add/Remove. Otherwise, open the Control Panel, select Add/Remove program, locate the program to be removed, e.g. Napster, select that icon and click on "remove."

Apple:

Locate the folder for the program, drag it to the trashcan, and then select "Empty Trash".

Linux:

Locate and delete the binaries and the source code, if available.

Please use your University on-line access privileges responsibly. Remember, copyright infringement is illegal and can result in serious civil and criminal sanctions, as well as serious University disciplinary sanctions.
