VOLUME 3, ISSUE 2

SPRING 2013

Meet Our Student Academic Advisory Board Members!

In 2006, UNLV created the Rebel Voice Commission to give students a voice in academic advising. To assist this commission, the Student Academic Advisory Board was formed to research topics for further exploration, provide scholarly insight, and make recommendations for improving academic advising for all students at UNLV. If you want to learn more about SAAB please email rebelvoice@unlv.edu

Genny D. Lee has played the violin for 7 years, danced for 3 years and was on a dance team for 2 years. She works at the UNLV Office of Admissions. She is originally from San Francisco, California. Genny is currently working on a BSBA in Accounting, and is currently in her 2nd year at UNLV. She likes to spend her free time with her family.

Mariah Campbell is currently a third-year Kinesiology major. Mariah is active in several student organizations on campus and continuously seeks out opportunities to make a positive impact on the UNLV community. She is proud of what she has done; however much of it can be attributed to those around her including fellow peers and family. Mariah plans on attending law school in the fall of 2014.

Samantha Hilton is a first year graduate student in the Higher Education Master's program, pursuing an emphasis in Student Affairs. She plans on pursuing a career as an Academic Advisor at UNLV upon graduation, hopefully working with at-risk students. When she's not busy studying, Samantha enjoys playing video games, hiking around Zion National Park, and spending time with her fiancé.

Tiffany Turner is in her third year at UNLV, majoring in Marketing through the Lee Business School. She currently works at UNLV's Architecture Studies Library, which is fortunate because she not only enjoys reading, but also appreciates architecture and design. Although this is her first campus activity, she has found it to be a fulfilling experience, and takes pride in being a part of an on campus organization. SAAB is important to Tiffany, because throughout her academic career she has been lucky enough to have advisors invested in her progress. Tiffany wants to help make the college experience the same for other UNLV students.

Rochelle Cardy is in her second semester at UNLV and is a junior who is majoring in Psychology and minoring in Philosophy. Upon graduation she is hopeful to attend Boyd School of Law. With her limited free time Rochelle spends it with her family doing various outdoor activities including camping, hiking, and golfing.

SAAB members, standing: Rochelle, Mariah.
Sitting: Genny, Samantha, Tiffany

How are YOU Managing the Business of your Education?

The Lee Business School Advising Center Can Help!

(Rebel Voice's featured college of the semester)

The Lee Business School has majors in Accounting, Economics (both BA and BSBA), Entrepreneurship, Finance, International Business, Management, Marketing, and Real Estate & Urban Economics.

Lee Business School Ambassador Program

The Lee Business School Ambassador Program is led by Dana Angioni, M.Ed. The school strives to offer our ambassadors experiences customized to meet their individual educational needs. With this goal in mind, each ambassador is provided the opportunity to receive mentoring from top business executives in the ambassador's field of interest and to develop professional contacts while honing networking skills. Ultimately, the program is designed to enrich students with the skills needed well beyond UNLV's campus.

LBS ambassadors hold a unique position within the school, engaging with distinguished alumni, business leaders, and community partners. They attend events ranging from small, private breakfasts with visiting speakers to large college functions such as the Nevada Business Hall of Fame. Ambassadors are also a driving force within the Lee Business School, working with the school's partners, such as business CSUN senators, club presidents, and honor societies to plan events meant to enrich students' experiences at UNLV. LBS ambassadors' support and participation are necessary to ensure that goals and program plans become reality.

To qualify for the LBS Ambassador program, students must have at least junior standing, be admitted to a business major, and hold and maintain a minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA. All applicants must show strong involvement and leadership in at least one campus organization. In order to be considered for the program, submit an application (including all essays and references) to the front desk of BEH 100, the Undergraduate Advising Center.

BUS 103: Business Connection's Learning Community

The BUS 103 learning community experience is comprised of two courses (BUS 103 and COM 101 or ENG101) linked in a way that helps students foster relationships with their peers thereby enhancing the educational experience. The Business Connection learning communities have been designed to provide students the opportunity to couple their classroom learning with a community-based and business-related event. Students will learn about the many areas of a business while also learning skills for college success and for personal and professional development. In each learning community, 20 students will work together to plan, coordinate and host a special event. The proceeds of these events benefit a local community non-profit organization. Through the activities necessary to make the event a reality, students will begin to develop an understanding of the various aspects and functions within any business organization.

The Global Entrepreneurship Experience attracts creative, high-achieving students to the UNLV Lee Business School to study entrepreneurship on a global scale. Through an engaging curriculum that combines immersive learning and leadership development, students gain experience crafting unique business models to bring new products and services to world markets.

The GEE program stimulates creativity and innovation, emphasizes strategic thinking, and promotes leadership and team-building. This signature series is a complementary curriculum that gives students from any major the tools to become entrepreneurial in their chosen profession.

Competition @ the UNLV Lee Business School

Competition is a core tenet of the UNLV Lee Business School. We believe competition makes us stronger and challenges us to become our best through focused, consistent effort. Students in the college are asked to compete every day in a number of ways – in class, for internships, and in national student competitions representing the college and UNLV. These experiences transform the student participants and underscore our philosophy: We are in it to win it.

Upcoming Competitions

Our students will represent Lee Business School in these spring contests:

THE PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL

The UNLV Lee Business School Presidents' Council is quite literally the voice of all business students. Club presidents meet each month with Interim Dean Percy Poon and other administrators to discuss issues and events important to the college. Students share ideas, provide invaluable feedback to the dean, and collaborate with one another so the UNLV Lee Business School has a sense of community and is a place where everyone wants to belong.

Faculty Advisors – Dr. Percy Poon, percy.poon@unlv.edu and Beth Gersten, 895-3363, beth.gersten@unlv.edu

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS SOCIETY

The Real Estate and Business Society is committed to creating a higher degree of understanding and success in the real estate and business community through interaction with industry professionals and organizations; the use and expansion of Lee Business School resources; partnerships with local organizations, such as NAIOP, BOMA, ULI, GLVAR, CCIM and the Community Planning and Economic Development Departments in southern Nevada. The society supports member opportunities through the career exploration forum, mentoring, internships and employment.

marcus.conklin@unlv.edu

STUDENTS IN FREE ENTERPRISE

SIFE is an international non-profit organization that works with leaders in business and higher education to mobilize university students to make a difference in their communities while developing the skills to become socially responsible business leaders. Participating students form teams on their university campuses and apply business concepts to develop outreach projects that improve the quality of life and standard of living for people in need. An annual series of regional and national competitions provides a forum for teams to present the results of their projects, and to be evaluated by business leaders serving as judges. National champion teams advance to the prestigious SIFE World Cup. In addition to the community aspect of the program, SIFE's leadership and career initiatives create meaningful opportunities for learning and exchange among the participants as well as the placement of students and alumni with companies in search of emerging talent.

Faculty Advisor – Dr. Dan McAllister, 895- 3211,

IS YOUR RESUME READY FOR CAREER DAY?

March 20, 2013 at the Thomas & Mack Center
10am-3pm

Save the date for the UNLV Spring Career Day, where you can connect with employers from a variety of industries and network for future job opportunities!

TIPS TO MAKE YOUR CAREER FAIR VISIT A SUCCESS! (courtesy of the Career Services Office)

Make sure your resume has been proofread and is ready to sell your skills.

Make sure you have a professional resume and a minimum of 50 copies on bond paper. Consult with professionals in Career Services to insure your resume markets you effectively. Don't wait until the last minute to polish your resume- make an appointment with Career Services today for a resume review! Appointments can be made by calling (702) 895-3495.

Prepare your 30 second ad.

Be prepared with a two to three line script about yourself to generate interest from the employer within the first few minutes of the conversation. Include your name, class year and interest in full-time, internship/co-op positions or career exploration. Follow up with your career interest, your major(s), and why you came to the company's table. Be professional, smile and stay focused on the company.

Practice your interviewing skills-you may be invited for an interview.

Many employers have scheduled time in the days following the Spring Career Day to interview students for open positions and internships. Know your schedule for the week so you can commit to an interview time if asked on the spot. Practice makes perfect- practice your interview skills with a Career Services professional. Make an appointment with Career Services for a mock interview prior to the Spring Career Day to brush up on your skills and get some of the interview jitters out of the way.

Dress Professional, but wear comfortable shoes.

Limit jewelry and trendy looks for more classic business attire. Dress for success. You will be making first impressions as you meet recruiters from a variety of companies. A bad first impression could decrease your chances of being selected for an interview.
