

ADVOCACY

This is the Jean Nidetch Women's Center's (JNWC) third year offering crisis advocacy for victims, survivors, friends, family, faculty and staff members affected by sexual assault, domestic violence, and stalking.

For in-office advocacy, JNWC has seen a total of:

67

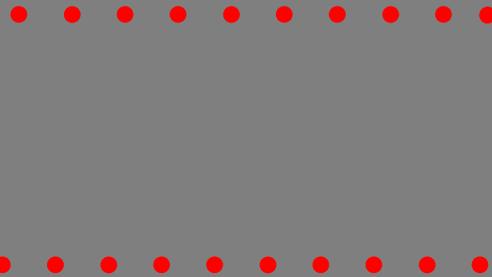

Out of the 67 people:

- 63 identified as female
- 3 identified as male
- 1 identified as unknown
- 0 identified as transgender

For our hotline, JNWC has heard from a total of:

102

Out of the 102 people:

- 22 were survivors of sexual assault
- 37 experiencing relationship violence
- 8 experiencing stalking

Sexual assault affects 1 in 5 women

For men, 75% of all sexual assaults occur before age 18

COLLEGE-AGED WOMEN REPORT SURVIVING RAPE OR ATTEMPTED RAPE SINCE AGE 14

Sexual assault affects 1 in 6 men before age 25

For transgender individuals, 1 in 2 will experience sexual violence

Sexual assault is one of the most under reported crimes, with 54% still being left unreported.

(Justice Department, National Crime Victimization Survey: 2006-2010)

EDUCATION

Number of PAAVE presentations:

104

Number of Disclosure Training presentations :

28

Number of Orientation and First-Year Seminar presentations:

56

Attendees: 15,666 people received a presentation on interpersonal violence from the Jean Nidetch Women's Center

PAAVE asked students to write down one thing they learned after a presentation from the Jean Nidetch Women's Center.

These are a sample of comments:

"standing up against violence"

"if i know of someone i will direct them to the women's center"

"everyone has the right to a safe educational experience and that there are many programs/orgs on campus that can aid in this insurance."

"consent"

"having a healthy relationship"

"how to react in situations that deal with interpersonal violence"

"there is a UNLV hotline"

"resources on campus"

"how to report a sexual assault on campus"

"the reasons people stay in abusive relationships are far more detailed and complicated then I realized previously"

"reporting a crime has to be done, but can be confidential"

TRAINING

Being a victim of a crime is a lifetime change, and you are never the same after it. Having first-hand experience of how difficult picking up the pieces can be, it brings me great joy to work with victims and take part in the transformation from life as a victim to life as a survivor. I think too often we underestimate the power of a listening ear, a helping hand, or the smallest act of caring, all of which have the potential to turn a life around.

-Tiffany Brazier, Victim Advocate

CARE
Advocate
Trainings

9

Currently Active
CARE
Advocates

30

CARE
Advocates
Trained

74

Who are our Victim Advocates?

Academics

English	Psychology
Philosophy	Public Health
Criminal Justice	Counseling
Sociology	Political Science
Communications	Creative Writing
Social Work	Pre-Nursing
History	Kinesiology
Women's Studies	Interdisciplinary Studies
Human Services
Marriage and Family Therapy

Gender

2

Male

20

Female

1

Bigender

Race/Ethnicity

