

Scott Garrison
President and Founder, LINQ360 Innovation Center

Scott Garrison is the president and founder of LINQ360 Innovation Center, Powered by Microsoft. LINQ360 is a one-of-a-kind business model created to bring together thought-leaders from all sectors of the global hospitality technology market in a dedicated collaboration center where truly integrated solutions can be developed and demonstrated for the benefit of world-class hospitality brands. LINQ360 does this via four primary areas of focus—the cornerstones of LINQ360: technology company members, institutional education programs, innovation incubators, and industry development organizations.

Garrison has over 25 years of experience developing and implementing sales and business plans within a variety of industry sectors including hospitality, casino, gaming, software, golf, electrical and audio/video. He possesses extensive experience at the executive level in operations, business development, acquisitions, and sales and marketing.

In the last 15 years, Garrison has been intimately involved in the technology boom, helping companies develop and optimize the value of their technology platforms while building relationships across multiple verticals.
