Career Options for UAS Minor

This minor degree provides students with the in-depth knowledge and technical aspects of Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS) needed for the civil unmanned aircraft system industry. The curriculum provides the breadth and depth of instruction needed to ensure graduates are prepared to be involved as operators or development team members of UAS depending on their major in the undergraduate engineering and computer science programs.