UNLV Jazz Ensemble I & Special Guests: Celebrating Black History Month
Tuesday, February 3
Ham Hall | 7:30pm

UNLV’s Jazz Ensembles are directed by David Loeb, professor of Jazz Studies.

African American Scholar Recognition Reception
Sunday, February 8
Foundations Building | 12:30pm

Join UNLV faculty and staff and other high achieving students and their families for lunch as we celebrate your academic accomplishments.

No Stupid Questions: Black History Month
Tuesday, February 10
SU 213 | 4-5 pm

A safe and open environment is created as each question is assumed to come from a place of curiosity and respect.

“An American Hero” Film Screening
Thursday, February 26
CSJ Library | 5:30pm

An American Hero is a film highlighting one African American veteran’s life and view on the progression of race in the United States.

Diversity Forum
Friday, February 13
Greenspun College of Urban Affairs Auditorium | 2:30pm

The Diversity Leadership Forum Series brings together community and campus leaders to offer perspectives on key social and economic issues impacting various communities in Southern Nevada.

Healing Traditions in Black Women’s Narratives: Memoirs, Poems, and Song Lyrics
Monday, February 16
Barrick Museum Auditorium | 7:30pm

Dr. Evans from the History Department will discuss her book Black Passports, written after a decade of teaching and mentoring classes.

Hear Our Voices: Black History Month Celebration
Thursday, February 19
SU Ballroom | 5:00pm

Hear from prominent African American UNLV faculty and community members as they discuss the connections between identity, life, work and current trends.

Reaping the Whirlwind: The Contested History of the Black Panther Party
Thursday, February 26
Barrick Museum Auditorium | 7:30pm

Waldo E. Martin, a professor of history at University of California, Berkley will walk us through this contested area, discussing key controversies that have surrounded the party over time.

Five Years Later: Revisiting Haiti and the Earthquake
Monday, April 23
Barrick Museum Auditorium | 7:30pm

A delivery of critical analysis on post-quake Haiti and how the nation and its subjects continue to negotiate life.

Events are sponsored by:
Students Organizing Diversity Activities, UNLV Veteran Affairs, College of Liberal Arts and the Dean’s Associates, Multicultural Student Programs, Office of Civic Engagement & Diversity, Music Department, Office of Admissions, Interdisciplinary Programs