The meeting was called to order by President Sharma at 2:00pm.

1. PUBLIC COMMENT
none

2. APPROVAL OF MINUTES
FOR POSSIBLE ACTION
Request is made for approval of the following meeting minutes - October 5, 2015 Council Meeting- President Sharma asked for a motion to approve the October 5th Council meeting minutes. Motion to approve from Accounting seconded by Educational and Higher Education. With no discussion the minutes were approved unanimously. Motion carried.

3. SPEAKERS
INFORMATION ONLY
President Len Jessup and Chancellor Daniel Klaich thanked the Council for the speaking invitation. President Jessup said this semester there were close to 4,000 new students in total for UNLV with 29,000 in enrollment. He anticipates that number to continue to grow. This growth has seen a number of interesting research partnerships that have been announced: the Tesla partnership was finalized, helping the manufacturing around the batteries, using resources efficiently is critical to build a lot of cars at a low price point. We are in the middle of the strategy. The Cleveland Clinic is another research partnership aimed at working with the people at Lou Rouvo Brain Health Center. This is exciting and pulled in faculty/students from the Psychology Department and other areas on campus. The other big research partnership is with the Las Vegas Convention and Visitor’s Authority around the Presidential Debate to be held next year. We could not have done it without the Authority. They picked four universities, UNLV got the final debate right before the election. The Thomas & Mack Center audience for the Debate will be 800-900 people. It will be a tightly controlled event. UNLV will get an allocation of 80-90 tickets. A lottery is a possible and fair way for distribution. They’ve told us simulcasts are allowed, similar to what is broadcasted with the rodeos. It is projected 4500 journalists will be covering the debate and doing backstories on UNLV and Southern NV, and Las Vegas - generating free publicity. President Jessup said that we are in the final steps with the medical school. It is being built as we speak.

Chancellor Daniel Klaich followed up with President Jessup’s comments. The opportunity to have a presidential debate on campus with the entire country focusing on UNLV is remarkable. Klaich continued stating that you cannot buy this kind of coverage/exposure. Chancellor Klaich followed that with this past legislative session we have seen new developments: the new hotel building and medical school and support of the law school, all requests for the most part were passed - overall it was a good session for higher education. He followed that President Jessup had been clear that top-tier is about the entire experience of this university and that in terms of the process, the Chancellor and the NSHE team are visiting every campus. The Chancellor said that Monday President Jessup and his team will explain the resources he needs to take the institution where it needs to be and what he anticipates for the UNLV budget. A proposed budget will be submitted to the Governor by September 1 of next year. In 10 months the Chancellor would like to hear from the students, faculty and staff. President Sharma opened the floor for questions. Chemistry asked about the Western Government’s Institution. Chancellor Daniel Klaich responded the money was privately funded from a foundation. The Governor did have a very visible commercial for the Western Government’s Institution. Put all that aside, Western Governor’s student population is between 20 – 40 and employed, therefore the online educational format serves this population best. President Len Jessup replied that the university has invested significantly in staff for building online programs on this campus and that there are incentives for Deans to pitch ideas for online learning to grow this educational platform. Accounting asked with the top-tier initiative, is it a goal to create additional doctoral programs or to put more in programs that exist? President Len Jessup responded yes. Educational Psychology and Higher Education asked how the university’s designation as a minority-serving institution will be a part of the top-tier initiative. President Len Jessup said it’s a key part of who we are. It’s an advantage we have, not only in better serving the community but practically, for example, grant money for minorities. It helps us get closer to tier-one, it is critical. There is a profound and direct relationship with cultivating minority faculty members. Chancellor Daniel Klaich added that we cannot forget who we are here to serve, all the people of NV. Not just a certain segment. That is at the heart of your questions and it is advice we should all take to heart. The Presidents get graded on metrics. Most of them have sub-categories dealing with diversity. This includes what your faculty looks like. We want to be reflective of the communities that we live in. President Sharma thanked President Jessup for speaking at the Council. And asked Chancellor Daniel Klaich about the best way for the GPSA to communicate with him and his team. Chancellor Klaich replied that we have to rely on representative students to get input and to not hesitate to get in touch with him. He stated that from now until the end of June communication is more than welcomed. Once we move past June the Chancellor said it would be best to talk to legislators. He added that when legislators talk to students they see the face of higher education and respond to individual testimonies of how higher education is impacting the student’s life. He stressed that it is impossible for him to say more how strongly students’ input is to the legislative session. He encouraged the Council to communicate with us through this council during the budget building process, he added make sure that you convey to President Jessup what is important to you and your degree program. He concluded with encouragement for the representatives to speak up at board meetings, write him often, and work with he and President Jessup in finalizing the university’s budget. President Sharma thanked Chancellor Daniel Klaich for sharing his comments with the Council.

4. BUDGET REPORT
Treasurer Thomas reported that the October student wages were $6,077.48. $3,825 was for the staff in the Graduate Student Commons and $2,249.88 was for the summer council stipends. There were only a few operating expenses in October. Routine postage and telephone costs. $366.00 for the NY Times newspaper. $337.71 for President Sharma's September Board of Regents trip held in Reno. And $575.00 for the GPSA service pins. Hosting expenses for the month were at $348.75 for replenishment of snacks in the Grad Commons. Revenue from student fees brought in this month was $23,417.66, $627.74 was brought in for the sale of snacks in the Commons. This brings the revenue total for the fiscal year to $127,783.39. The balance forward is $138,748.52 with a balance of $155,844.31. President Sharma asked for a motion to approve the budget report. Motion to approve from Economics seconded by Anthropology. With no discussion the budget was approved unanimously. Motion carried.

5. GPSA / CAMPUS-WIDE COMMITTEE REPORT

- Board of Regents / Nevada Student Alliance- Next meeting on December 3 and 4th. President Sharma will be attending. During the last NSA Meeting, the system-wide initiative was discussed. Nothing has been executed and they are still in the process of brainstorming.

- GPSA Activities / Community Service – Chair Amanda Prisbrey gave the report: Bagels and coffee in the Graduate Commons, LLB2141, is the last hosting event for this semester. Chair Prisbrey also discussed the events for next semester, perhaps around Valentine’s Day. The committee would like to host a mixer and have donations go towards domestic violence shelter. The theme would be a masquerade ball, as love for someone else and for someone else’s benefits. If you have thoughts or ideas about this, please email Life Sciences representative. Another idea is to do a fun walk or run for a good cause, there is one in March for Parkinson’s disease. Treasurer Thomas mentioned the AFAN walk in April. It is a big event. Life Sciences said that is perfect, great spacing between the two events. President Sharma says if you have any suggestions you can email Michael, Becky, or Amanda with Life Sciences.

- GPSA Awards – Treasurer Thomas will send out an email for committee members. We also need nominations for these awards, mentor, staff, faculty, and student awards are available and will be presented at the annual Research Forum. They are due December 6. Educational Psychology and Higher Education asked if there is a pdf of this flyer. Rebecca Boulton, GPSA Manager says it’s on the website.

- GPSA Bylaws – President Sharma says we will give an update in January.

- GPSA Government Relations – Treasurer Thomas says behind the scenes they have been busy. There will be a meeting in November. President Sharma, Rebecca Boulton GPSA Manager, and Treasurer Thomas have met with Vice President of Government Affairs Luis Valera to get prepared for legislative discussions. We are introducing legislative popcorn talks in February. These sessions will be recorded and made available on the GPSA website. Mr. Valera and other prominent figures of the community will come in and speak about how to talk to your legislature and how to testify at a committee hearing among other things. This will help people get involved in politics. During the legislative session in 2017, we are going to have GPSA lobby day at the legislative session where graduate students can sit in on the Legislative sessions. Also that day we will have a room reserved the size of the Greenspun lobby and we will have posters put up for research, students can present to legislators. It is informal and more information is forthcoming. President Sharma mentioned that this is the first time for these popcorn sessions, designed to educate the graduate students on how to communicate with legislators. Any constituents can come and ask questions. We are working with Valera’s office, and once it is all streamlined the E-Board will share the information.

- GPSA Publications-Secretary Rosen mentioned that the due date for articles are today and to email her ASAP with your article if you have not already. The next issue of the Luminary will include profiles of past research winners.

- GPSA Sponsorship – Emergency Fall 2015 awards –Vice-President Pierce says sponsorship committee met this afternoon. the committee reviewed six Emergency Sponsorship Applications submitted for the month of October for a requested total amount of $4657.50. Three applications were approved @ $ 1129.00. She noted the deadline for spring2016 activities is November 15th.

- Executive Vice President and Provost Search Committee – President Sharma is representing the graduate and professional student body. They are in the process of reviewing applicants, afterwards there will be off-campus interviews, and then there will be a short-list of on-campus interviews. There is no exact time/date yet, but President Sharma will forward the information for the opportunity to speak to Provost Applicants. There is a website about the applicants as well. Look out for President Sharma’s email about meeting the applicants.

- Student Union Advisory Board – Vice-President Pierce shared ideas for the SU expansion. The Board is looking into all-sex bathrooms an option. The next meeting is 11/17. If you have any information let Vice-President Pierce know.
so she can bring it back to the board. Feel free to email her. Accounting wants to know if feedback is for expansion or just bathroom. Vice-President Pierce says just bathroom. History says it is like the SU one currently in use. Vice-President Pierce says it will be all stalls, so on a larger scaled and the main concept is that it will be a shared facility.

It is preferred that this letter be written by the applicant’s advisor. This letter of recommendation should address the quality of the research proposed or the significance of the conference being attended. Additional letters of recommendation and support from graduate and/or professional faculty members can be submitted to speak to the importance/relevance of the student’s project/research.
