The Stand Up. Speak Out. event series invites students to come learn about a social justice issue that is affecting a specific social identity within our community. The series is aligned with the various heritage months that happen throughout the year. Stand Up. Speak Out. uses various forms of communication to talk about social justice such as panels, speakers, movies, focus group dialogues, etc. Participants engage in the process of accountability and advocacy so they can support the issue and/or community highlighted for the month.
