Jason Mendenhall
Executive Vice President
Switch

Jason Mendenhall has been leading innovation in the enterprise technology industry for over 15 years. He currently serves as an executive vice president for Switch where he oversees the United States InterCloud Exchange (I.C.E.) and is responsible for developing strategic growth initiatives as the company continues to expand its products and services.

Previously, he founded Verde Communications, a regional broadband provider, where he built the company from the ground up to its eventual sale to Sparkplug, Inc. Jason has served as an executive for global-enterprise level companies in the telecommunications, enterprise software, and technology consulting industries. His depth and breadth of experience in working where technology and business intersect make him a thought leader for enterprise technology initiatives. He holds a B.S. in chemical and fuels engineering from the University of Utah and is a native to Las Vegas where he lives with his wife and four daughters.
