

Graduates are prepared for continued education in pursuit of a doctoral degree or other Allied Health field (e.g., Physical Therapy) as well as work in a wide range of enterprises that include:

- commercial fitness
- health and wellness programs
- public/private or non-profit health agencies
- teaching/coaching at the community college level