Entrance requirements: Students must meet and maintain the minimum GPA requirement of 2.80, complete SIM 101 and an Anatomy Course (BIO 223 or KIN 245) for admission into the Athletic Education Training Program. <http://www.unlv.edu/athletics/training/forms.htm>

Note: Courses with number superscripts should be taken in the sequence identified.

Minimum Requirements for Application

- UNLV cumulative GPA of 2.8 or higher. If no UNLV GPA has been earned then the cumulative GPA from all other schools attended will be used.
- Completion of or Enrollment in SIM 101 - Introduction to Athletic Training (or equivalent course completed)
- Completion of or Enrollment in Anatomy (i.e. BIO 223, KIN 245, or equivalent)

Application process once minimum requirements are met

- Attend the athletic training program orientation meeting during the third Thursday of fall semester. The actual date, time and location will be available from the program director the first week of fall semester.
- Complete 25 hours of observation in the UNLV Athletic Training Facilities during the five-week observation period as assigned by program director.
- Have two recommendation forms completed. The UNLV athletic training faculty and staff may not complete these forms.
- Complete and turn in your application and recommendation forms to the program director by the posted deadline in October.
- Pass the written entrance examination in November. A passing grade is 70% or higher.
- Complete an interview with the athletic training faculty and staff. Selection for interviews will be based on GPA, written exam scores, letters of recommendation, previous clinical experience, and essays included in the application.
- The interview will be scored and used in conjunction with the criteria listed above to select the top 15 students. These 15 students will be accepted into the Clinical Athletic Training education Program, which begins January of the following year.
- Students accepted into the program are required to declare Athletic Training as their major.
