

Nevada Archaeological Association 51st Annual Meeting

April 14-16, 2023
Churchill County Museum
Fallon, Nevada

For the first time in NAA history... the Annual Meeting of the Nevada Archaeological Association will be held in Fallon, the Oasis of Nevada! We are thrilled to be partnering with the Churchill County Museum to host the event, which will feature the standard schedule of workshops, papers and posters, evening social and dinner, and the infamous auction. We are also working on some fantastic workshops and fieldtrips. We encourage meeting attendees to present a paper or poster highlighting current or recent research pertaining to the archaeology, history, or ethnohistory of Nevada. Students are encouraged to present their research in what has long been a friendly, low-stress environment. Because space is limited in the Museum and we anticipate this will be a very well-attended event, we encourage people to submit their abstracts early and watch for upcoming announcements about registration and hotel information in the coming months.

For more information about the NAA and our annual meeting visit www.nvarch.org or contact Geoff Smith and Victor Villagran, NAA Annual Meeting Conference Co-Chairs, at conferencechair@nvarch.org.

All proceeds from the meeting benefit the NAA.

FIRST CALL FOR PAPERS

Nevada Archaeological Association 51st Annual Meeting

April 14-16, 2023
Churchill County Museum
Fallon, Nevada

The 51st Annual Meeting of the Nevada Archaeological Association will be an exciting one, with a full schedule of workshops, interesting papers, evening social, the infamous auction, and much more! We encourage all meeting attendees to present a short paper or poster on any interesting work they are currently doing (or have done) pertaining to the archaeology, history, or ethnohistory of Nevada. Students are particularly urged to present summaries or discussions of their research in what will be a friendly, low-stress meeting environment.

There are two formats for paper presentations. The first is a 15-minute presentation; the second is a 3-minute presentation for a special session held either Friday or Saturday. The number of 15-minute presentations we can accept is unlimited, but we can only accept 10 presentations for the 3-minute session. If you plan to give a 3-minute presentation, get it in early to reserve your space.

We also encourage you to prepare posters. Poster sessions may be either Friday or Saturday. Specifications about poster size and other information about poster presentations are available upon request.

This year, NAA will award $150 to the top student paper and the top student poster! If you are interested in entering the student competition, please indicate student status when submitting an abstract. To be eligible, a student must be the lead author, but co-authored submissions are acceptable. If two or more students are co-authors, the prize money may be split.

Please send an abstract of your paper or poster (no more than 150 words) no later than March 24, 2023. Make sure your abstract contains the paper/poster title and author name(s) and affiliation(s). Abstract submission is through email only (in Microsoft Word) to Geoff Smith and Victor Villagran, NAA Annual Meeting Conference Co-Chairs, at conferencechair@nvarch.org.
