Requirements (18 Credits)

The Brookings Public Policy Minor is an 18 credit program which requires completion of URST 101: Brookings: Introduction to Public Policy, and a pre-approved independent study course supervised by a UNLV faculty member. Additionally, students are required to complete 4 upper division courses from a pre-approved list (see below) to fulfill the minor. Earning a grade of 'B' or better is required for all courses in the minor, and a cumulative 3.0 GPA is required to officially declare the minor. Selected student papers may be published by the Brookings Institution. See the Brookings Public Policy Minor website for more information.
