Degree Program Benchmarks. Official degree requirements are found in the Graduate Catalog.

To progress in the MSN program, the student must:

1. Maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 (B) or above each semester enrolled.
2. Receive a grade of “B” or above in all required cognate and nursing courses. If less than a “B” occurs, for example a “B-” is earned, the student must repeat the course. The student may repeat a course only one time.
3. Register for any course offered through the MSN program only two times. A student who has registered for the same course twice and has withdrawn or received a grade of less than a “B” is ineligible for readmission unless approved via appeal by the Graduate College to continue.
4. Complete a minimum of six degree program credits per calendar year (3 credits per semester; calendar year defined as fall and spring semesters).
5. Continuously register for three semester hours of credit each semester while working on a culminating project (FNP/PMHNP/NMW), or scholarship project (NE). An FNP or PMHNP student who finishes clinical courses prior to completion of the culminating project must maintain clinical competency by continuously registering for at least three credits of NURS 773 (Clinical Practicum) each semester while working on their culminating project or other project to complete the program.

ACCREDITATION

The baccalaureate degree in nursing program and master's degree in nursing program at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas – School of Nursing were originally accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) on October 13, 2008 with the current accreditation through June 30, 2024. The post-graduate APRN certificate program had their initial accreditation visit on October 2, 2017 and were accredited through June 30, 2033. The Nurse-Midwifery Program had their preaccreditation visit by the Accreditation Commission for Midwifery Education on March 3, 2023, and was preaccredited in April, 2023.

All eligible programs at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (Baccalaureate degree in Nursing {BSN}; Master's degree in Nursing {MSN}; Doctor of Nursing Practice {DNP}; and post-graduate APRN certificate program) are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, 655 K Street NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20001, 202-887-6791. The Nurse-Midwifery Program {NMW} is also preaccredited by the Accreditation Commission for Midwifery Education, 8403 Colesville Road, Suite 1550, Silver Spring, MD 20910.

NURSING STANDARDS

The American Nurses Association has defined standards and codes by which all nurses practice. As a professional program it is expected that students will demonstrate behaviors that reflect the defined standards of nursing throughout their academic experience. Students in the specialty areas will also be guided by published standards appropriate to their specialty. American Nurses Association Standards of Nursing Practice

- The collection of data about the health status of the client/patient is systematic and continuous. The data are accessible, communicated, and recorded.
- Nursing diagnoses are derived from health status data.
- The plan of nursing care includes goals derived from the nursing diagnoses.
- The plan of nursing care includes priorities and the prescribed nursing approaches or measures to achieve the goals derived from the nursing diagnoses.
- Nursing actions provide for client/patient participation in health promotion, maintenance and restoration.
- Nursing actions assist the client/patient to maximize his health capabilities.
- The client's/patient's progress or lack of progress toward goal achievement is determined by the client/patient and the nurses.

- The client's/patient's progress or lack of progress toward goal achievement directs reassessment, reordering of priorities, new goal setting and revision of the plan of nursing care.

CODE OF ETHICS

The graduate program also adheres to the Code of Ethics for Nurses as published by the American Nurses Association (2015). Interpretive statements related to the statements identified below may be found at AMA Ethics

1. The nurse practices with compassion and respect for the inherent dignity, worth, and unique attributes of every person.
2. The nurse's primary commitment is to the patient, whether an individual, family, group, community, or population.
3. The nurse promotes, advocates for, and protects the rights, health, and safety of the patient.
4. The nurse has authority, accountability, and responsibility for nursing practice; makes decisions; and takes action consistent with the obligation to provide optimal care.
5. The nurse owes the same duties to self as to others, including the responsibility to promote health and safety, preserve wholeness of character and integrity, maintain competence, and continue personal and professional growth.
6. The nurse, through individual and collective effort, establishes, maintains, and improves the ethical environment of the work setting and conditions of employment that are conducive to safe, quality health care.
7. The nurse, in all roles and settings, advances the profession through research and scholarly inquiry, professional standards development, and the generation of both nursing and health policy.
8. The nurse collaborates with other health professionals and the public to protect human rights, promote health diplomacy, and reduce health disparities.
9. The profession of nursing, collectively through its professional organizations, must articulate nursing values, maintain the integrity of the profession, and integrate principles of social justice into nursing and health policy.

Annual Mandatory Individual Development Plan (IDP)

Each winter break and early spring term, graduate students are required to complete the Graduate Student Individual Development Plan (IDP) form [Formerly known as the Student Annual Review]. The review covers the prior calendar year and assesses student progress, and it establishes reasonable goals for the year ahead.

Faculty Advisors/Graduate Coordinators have the option to provide feedback to each student's submitted IDP and provide acknowledgement that they have reviewed the IDP.

Reported student data is shared with students' graduate coordinators and advisors to foster opportunities for discussion about students' strengths and weaknesses, accomplishments and next requirements, and mentoring plans so that students know what they need to do in order to progress successfully through their programs in a timely manner.

Students who are graduating are also required to complete the form in order to record their achievements since the data is also used to track UNLV metrics related to the annual productivity of all students.

On-Campus Intensives

Students are required to attend on-campus intensives throughout the program, these vary by semester. These mandatory intensives consist of two-to-five days' hands-on activities, interprofessional education, simulation, and face-to-face interactions with faculty and experts. Note that for APRN students, the School of Nursing New Graduate Student Orientation will be included in the first on-campus intensive; for NMW students, the New Graduate Student Orientation is in addition to three on-campus intensives.

Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN) Student Clinical Information

UNLV School of Nursing guarantees clinical placements in Nevada in the greater Las Vegas Metro area to students who hold a valid Nevada RN license. Out-of-state students located in approved states (states in which the School of Nursing can offer various programs/tracks) must hold a valid RN license in the state and jurisdiction in which they intend to complete their program. A list of approved states is available on the Road to Rebel Nursing Webpage. Students are encouraged to partner with the School of Nursing in identifying potential preceptors and clinical practice experiences in their local community in one of those approved states. The UNLV School of Nursing must review and approve all out-of-state and out of the Las Vegas metro area preceptors and clinical sites. UNLV ensures adequate physical resources and clinical sites are available in Nevada to achieve the program's mission, goals, and expected outcomes for all admitted students. UNLV strives to approve student recommended out-of-state/out of the Las Vegas Metro area quality clinical practice experiences and preceptors; however, UNLV offers no guarantees for out-of-state/out of the Las Vegas metro area clinical placements and preceptors and/or assistance in finding out-of-state/out of the Las Vegas metro area placement sites and preceptors. If out-of-state/out of the Las Vegas metro area students are unable to secure a UNLV approved preceptor and/or site in their home communities then students are expected to acquire a Nevada RN license, relocate to the greater Las Vegas metro area, and the UNLV School of Nursing will assign them a preceptor and clinical site in the Las Vegas area (up to 75-miles from UNLV within NV state lines).

APRN students must maintain satisfactory performance in their designated clinical course to ensure progression through all clinical rotations. Students are expected to perform more independently as they progress through their clinical courses such that by the final clinical course the student is functioning with minimal supervision. Students must also follow the requirements, procedures, and responsibilities to be successful in the program.

- Students will be evaluated twice during each clinical course (at mid-term and final of the semester). The mid-term evaluation will be conducted online using the virtual clinical evaluation (VCE) approach. The final clinical evaluation will be an objective structured clinical examination (OSCE).
- Students are provided a list of preceptors and clinical sites that are affiliated with UNLVSON. If the student has a preceptor she/he would like to work with, the student should contact the Director of Clinical Operations and provide the preceptor's name and contact information by specified dates for each clinical semester.

Clinical Learning

Clinical learning involves practicing new skills and integrating knowledge from the classroom. Students should plan time before clinical experiences to review relevant coursework, and they should expect to be “quizzed” and challenged by preceptors. Although students should maintain a reference system to help support their on-site clinical learning, students should commit to memory both emergency and routine (frequent) procedures, including medications and dosages. Often, skill practice will be learned through a “see one, do one” approach, but since some opportunities to practice skills are rare, students should be prepared to practice new skills—in a manner that does not raise the patient's level of concern—after a brief on-site (i.e., outside the patient's space) review but without first observing their preceptor perform the skill. Thus, it is imperative to review videos, textbooks, and course materials prior to clinicals, including for skills practiced in lab. Students may provide assessments, labor support, and patient education without the presence of preceptors if the preceptor allows this based on prior observation of student performance; most/all other activities should be in the presence of a preceptor. Students are guests at their clinical sites, and they are there for the purpose of learning; students must avoid involvement in institutional politics.

Clinical Hours, Experiences, and E-value

Students will use this system to maintain up to date records throughout the program. The student should enter clinical experiences immediately following clinicals, but no later than 72 hours after the clinical experience. Failure to stay up to date with data entry may result in experiences not being counted. E-value data is used for accreditation to track students' number and type of patient encounters with diagnoses and procedures and allows faculty to track the clinical experiences of the student. The Faculty Site Visitor will review the entered data.

If clinical hours are not done in any week of the semester, students must notify their clinical instructor prior and then submit a note in the clinical log assignment indicating that hours were not completed that week. Each clinical log is pass/fail. If a student has a prearranged absence for one week (e.g., week 1 or week 15), the student is still required to submit in the clinical log assignment noting that he/she did not do clinical hours for reasons noted (e.g., week 1 – have not started clinical rotations yet; week 15 – not doing hours this week since done with required clinical hours).

Clinical hours are based on direct patient care of real people. Thus, telehealth hours count as clinical time, and simulation hours do not. Travel to and from the clinical site as well as lunch/breaks cannot be counted in the total for each clinical rotation. These guidelines follow the National Task Force guidelines on quality NP Education for a definition of direct patient care. Course hours requirements must be satisfied each term, but additional hours may be needed to achieve competence.

Clinical Simulation Center of Las Vegas (CSCLV)

The School of Nursing faculty may offer simulation experiences for students within the CSCLV and other learning labs. Simulation experiences include task trainers, standardized patient, human patient simulators (computerized mannequins), as well as hybrid experiences (a blending of two or more simulation experiences). Many of these experiences are recorded (video & audio) and assist the student(s) & faculty with mentorship and debriefing.

Confidentiality is essential to the learning process with simulation. Students are asked not to discuss events of simulation(s) or debriefing(s) with other students. As a leader in simulation education, the School of Nursing participates with members of outside institutions in educating healthcare professionals, academics, & 3rd party vendors about the process of utilization of simulation in student learning as well as administrative and technical aspects. Students are not identified nor are individual performance shared with any outside professional.
