Have you been officially denied admission to UNLV? ☐ Yes ☐ No

It is highly recommended that applicants work with an admission counselor in preparation for their appeal. Contact Office of Admissions for more information - call 702-774-8658 or email admissions@unlv.edu

Have you been working with a specific staff member in the Office of Admissions on your appeal?

☐ Yes ☐ No Name of Admissions Staff Member: _____

The Faculty Senate Admissions Committee meets monthly to review appeals from applicants that have been denied admission to UNLV. All documents must be received at least one week prior to the committee meeting to be agendaized for that meeting.

To appeal the decision, all required documents must be submitted together by fax, email, or mail. If emailed, documents must be in PDF format.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS:

- ☐ Admission Appeal Application form completed. (This form)
- ☐ A personal statement (250-500 words) that explains how you have grown and what has changed since your earlier academic record. While you may briefly explain challenges that affected your GPA, your statement should focus on evidence of maturity, responsibility, and your readiness to succeed at UNLV. Strong statements highlight changes in behavior and habits, such as improved grades, steady employment, or new study strategies, that demonstrate your ability to thrive in a university environment.
- ☐ Two (2) letters of recommendation that should come from a professor, an advisor, or a school counselor. The letters could also come from an employer and/or a family friend; however, if you could have an individual in higher education write at least one letter on your behalf explaining your academic success, it is recommended.

OPTIONAL DOCUMENTS:

- ☐ Unofficial ACT or SAT test scores (if taken)
