Welcome from the Dean

The mission of the School of Public Health (SPH) is to advance the science of public health, improve the health and quality of life of people in our communities, and work to eliminate health disparities in Nevada, the nation, and the world by providing leadership in quality education, research, and service. This mission statement also serves as the mission for the MPH and other SPH degree programs. Our vision is to be a vibrant center of excellence for public health teaching, research, and community action and to be a magnet for state, national, and international students.

Shawn L. Gerstenberger, Ph.D Dean,
UNLV School of Public Health

Message from the Chair

Welcome to the Master of Healthcare Administration program in the Department of Healthcare Administration and Policy. The MHA program is designed to provide students with the valuable tools necessary to become leaders in the healthcare industry. Our graduates work in hospitals, large group physician practices, Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs), managed care companies, health insurance providers, long-term care, educational institutions, community-based programs, government agencies and other organizations in the healthcare delivery system. Many of our students currently work in the healthcare industry and hope to use their degree for advancement. Others are new to the healthcare arena who see the opportunity to put their mark on the ever-changing healthcare landscape. Our program offers a variety of instructional formats to make their learning experience more convenient in today's busy world. Students will have the opportunity to learn from current healthcare professionals through internships and capstone courses. As with any discipline, students can expect to be challenged through a variety of teaching methods, coupling lectures and assignments with case studies, interactive learning and simulations.

Our academic faculty has been trained at some of the best programs around the country and around the world. They are dedicated scholars with successful research experience. You will help us continue to reach our goal for excellence in teaching and research. We partner with the best healthcare providers around the community and state to provide our students with a real-world learning opportunity. As such, we have high expectations for our students. We encourage you to work hard as you tackle this program. If you are dedicated to the program and recognize the sacrifices you may need to take to complete your degree, you will be successful. All of us in the UNLV HCAP department are proud that you are here, and we are ready to help. Feel free to call on us at any time.

Chris Cochran, Ph.D.,
Professor and Chair Department of Healthcare Administration and Policy

ABOUT UNLV

In its 60-year history, UNLV has undergone an amazing transformation from a small branch college into a Higher Learning Commission-accredited, thriving urban research institution of over 30,000 students and 3,900 faculty and staff. Along the way, the urban land-grant university has become a dynamic resource for one of the country's fastest-growing and most enterprising cities. UNLV's 350-acre main campus, located on the Southern tip of Nevada in a desert valley surrounded by mountains, is home to more than 220 undergraduate, master's, and doctoral degree programs, all accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

The School of Public Health (SPH), formerly known as the School of Community Health Sciences, was established in 2004 and is dedicated to improving the health and well-being of people worldwide. Our departments, programs, and research units work to provide a diverse education, practical training experience and numerous community involvement opportunities to prepare students to become leaders and professionals in the field of public health.

SPH students and faculty come from diverse backgrounds and represent a broad spectrum of interdisciplinary academic and research interests. We foster a collegial and supportive environment in which students work closely with faculty, staff, practitioners and other students. The quality of our educational programs reflects our deep commitment to our students.

The School of Public Health is committed to preparing students to meet the critical need for public health professionals in Nevada, the nation, and the world. We provide excellent academic programs with a variety of areas for concentration and the opportunity for applied research. The School of Public Health has a special interest in community-based participatory research.

Degree Programs

The SPH offers two undergraduate and four graduate degrees in various disciplines of public health. The graduate degrees offered are Master of Public Health (MPH), the Master of Healthcare Administration (MHA), the Executive Master of Healthcare Administration (EMHA) and the Ph.D. in Public Health. The MPH degree includes five concentration options: epidemiology and biostatistics; environmental and global health; healthcare administration and policy; social and behavioral health, and an online generalist track.

Departments, Programs and Research Units

The School of Public Health houses several departments and programs including the Department of Environmental and Global Health, Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, Department of Social and Behavioral Health and the Department of Healthcare Administration and Policy.

In addition to a world class education, the school includes a number of research centers and laboratories: American Indian Research and Education Center; Center for Health Disparities Research; Nevada Center for Environmental and Health Surveillance; Nevada Institute for Children's Research and Policy; Environmental and Occupational Health Laboratory; and Emerging Diseases Research Laboratory. These centers and laboratories within the school offer students specialized research and real-world training opportunities.

Accreditation

The MHA program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Management Education (CAHME).

The School of Public Health is accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH).

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The Master of Healthcare Administration degree program is one of only two graduate healthcare administration programs in the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE). The other is UNLV's Executive MHA Program, for mid-career healthcare professionals. The MHA will prepare students to assume leadership roles in healthcare organizations. The degree is recognized in the healthcare field as an important credential that allows graduates to assume healthcare management positions. The curriculum is developed to include all the critical competencies for healthcare leadership, including issues of healthcare delivery, healthcare finance, ethical and legal issues in healthcare administration and management topics. Students and faculty will contribute to the knowledge and applications of management in healthcare through research and service; and they will use their education and expertise to help meet the healthcare management needs of the State of Nevada and beyond.

APPLICATION AND ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Admissions Requirements

You are encouraged to apply to our Master in Healthcare Administration program if you:

- ☐ Meet Graduate College standards, which can be found under the Graduate College's Admission Requirements

Application Requirements

Applications must be received by April 1st for fall admission and December 1st for spring admission. For international students the deadlines are April 1st for fall admission and October 1st for spring admission. For a step- by-step guide to applying to our program, visit here. Applicants will need to submit supporting materials.

Applicants requiring guidance about the program or in completing their application can contact:
Erin Rosenberg, SPH Director of Student Services & Success at 702-895-4554 or at erin.rosenberg@unlv.edu

Conditional Admission

- ❓ Final Transcripts - Applicants who are within one year of graduating from an undergraduate program, can provide transcripts to-date and receive conditional admission, subject to them completing their undergraduate degree with a 3.0 GPA or better. Upon graduating, final official transcripts must be submitted to the Graduate College from all institutions attended prior to the beginning of classes, so that 'conditional' standing can be removed.
- ❓ Prerequisites - If applicants have not completed prerequisite courses (ECON 102 or HCA 205 and ACC 201 or HCA 216), they can do so during their first year of the MHA Program, ECON 102 (or HCA 205) must be completed before HCA 718, and ACC 201 (or HCA 216) must be completed before HCA 716.
- ❓ Missing Documentation - If applicants have another document missing from their application (ie. resume, personal statement, or their 3 recommendation letters) they can be conditionally admitted, pending the receipt of these missing documents.

Provisional Admission

Applicants who are borderline (lower than average GPA) in meeting program admission requirements, may choose to take courses as a non-degree-seeking student, or they can be provisionally admitted and take up to 3 departmental classes and receive a 'B' or better, to demonstrate capability to perform at a graduate level, and then the 'provisional' standing will be removed.

Non-Degree-Seeking Students

Students who are not admitted into the Program due to academic deficiencies, may take courses as a non-degree-seeking student in order to demonstrate their ability to be successful in the program. Students interested in the program can also take classes as a non-degree-seeking student to determine whether the program and the industry is a good fit for them. Non-degree-seeking students may not transfer more than 15 program credits if accepted as a future admission, and completion of MHA courses prior to admission does not guarantee admission to the Program.

Discrimination Statement

UNLV does not discriminate in its employment practices or in its educational programs or activities, including admissions, on the basis of sex/gender pursuant to Title IX, or on the basis of any other legally protected category as is set forth in NSHE Handbook Title 4, Chapter 8, Section 13. Reports of discriminatory misconduct, questions regarding Title IX, and/or concerns about noncompliance with Title IX or any other anti-discrimination laws or policies should be directed to UNLV's Title IX Coordinator Michelle Sposito. The Title IX Coordinator can be reached through the online reporting form at: online reporting form, by email at titleixcoordinator@unlv.edu, by phone at (702) 895-4055, by mail at 4505 S. Maryland Parkway, Box 451062, Las Vegas, NV, 89154-1062, or in person at Frank and Estella Beam Hall (BEH), Room 555.

Note: It is solely the students' responsibility to have all conditions and provisions removed from their application. These include submitting required materials, completing prerequisites, being removed from probational status, etc. Students should discuss their action plans to address these deficiencies when they meet with their advisor during their first semester. Students who have not had their conditional and/or provisional status removed prior to graduation, will not receive their diploma.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Orientation

Every semester a student orientation session is held to introduce students to the program and to meet the faculty. Students are required to attend this important event in their first semester. If unable to attend, students are required to obtain the information covered in the orientation from the Graduate Coordinator.

Advising

Each student will be assigned an advisor when they are admitted into the program. MHA students are required to obtain advising by the end of their first semester in the program, and must review and comply with the MHA Advising & Course Sequencing Policy. Additional advising sessions are required each semester. Advising allows students to understand the course sequencing requirements and to plan their academic schedule in advance. Failure to complete advising during the first semester may result in delays in student registration for subsequent semesters or delays in graduating. Advising plans can be changed, but students should meet with their advisor if they cannot meet their course of study schedule to plan their remaining courses.

Writing Style Guide

Students should use APA style in their scientific writing throughout the MHA program.

Individual Development Plan and Exit Survey

Annual Mandatory Individual Development Plan: Each winter break and early spring term, graduate students are required to complete the Graduate Student Individual Development Plan (IDP) form [Formerly known as the Student Annual Review]. The review covers the prior calendar year and assesses student progress, and it establishes reasonable goals for the year ahead. Faculty Advisors/Graduate Coordinators have the option to provide feedback to each students' submitted IDP and provide acknowledgement that they have reviewed the IDP. Reported student data is shared with students' graduate coordinators and advisors to foster opportunities for discussion about students' strengths and weaknesses, accomplishments and next requirements, and mentoring plans so that students know what they need to do in order to progress successfully through their programs in a timely manner. Students who are graduating are also required to complete the form in order to record their achievements since the data is also used to track UNLV metrics related to the annual productivity of all students. Additionally, students are required to complete an UNLV exit survey during their last semester in their program. This data assist in gathering information for future program improvements and post-graduate placements.

During the culminating capstone experience, students will be required to submit an Exit Survey evaluating their experience in the Master of Healthcare Administration program. This information is vital to the program to improve the quality of the courses, to provide valuable feedback to faculty, and to determine the students' perception of the program overall and their competency attainment.

PROGRAM OF STUDY/COURSEWORK

Sub-Plans

Students have several options for completing the MHA program. For up-to-date sub-plans and requirements, please visit the Graduate Catalog.

Choosing Electives

Students who choose to take the Capstone Track have a choice of an elective for three credits. The program has several elective course options available, including courses that are cross-listed with undergraduate courses. However, cross-listed courses cannot be used as electives if they were previously taken in another degree plan. For example, a student who took a cross-listed course such as HCA 431, should not take the corresponding graduate cross-listed course HCA 631. You should clear elective course options with your advisor.

HCA 793 – Internship in Healthcare Administration (required of all students)

A key component of the Master's Program is the practical experience of a 250-hour internship focused on understanding the operational tempo of a healthcare organization or system. This course allows the student to develop skills and competencies directly related to support the needs of industry. Through this process the student will learn to prepare a resume and cover letter, and interview for healthcare jobs in the community. Students will enhance their skills through this field experience.

In order to be placed in a local healthcare organization, students will visit local healthcare partnership sites where the student will have an opportunity to compete for an internship. Each student should participate in internship site visits in preparation for their internship course the semester prior to their internship. Students must have a completed and approved internship proposal at the end of the semester prior to the internship. In order for this to happen in a timely manner each student must contact the SPH Internship Coordinator at the beginning of the semester before their desired internship semester to request a copy of the internship site visit schedule.

Students who have substantial healthcare management or academic experience, as determined by the Internship Coordinator and Graduate Coordinator, may petition to waive the internship (MHA Course Waiver Policy). However, those students approved for a waiver are required to take an additional elective to meet the 45-credit hour requirement of the program. If you intend to request an internship waiver, you should gain written approval for this in your first semester to avoid delays in graduation, in the event that you do not receive the waiver.
