OVERVIEW

We are a Las Vegas Local STEM tutoring center for students 7-17 years old. We’re currently looking for STEM tutors & instructors for our weekend programs, to teach kids basic coding skills. Estimated starting time Jan or Feb, 2018.

Roles and Responsibilities
Weekly STEM courses during the weekend (time TBD, starting winter 2018). There will be a 100-minute programming theory course followed by a 100-minute coding lab course. Total 4-5 hours/week.

Education and Qualifications
Tutors - If you love to work with elementary school kids from 7-12 years old, love computer, science and math, please come and join us. Basic computer science and programming knowledge preferred, but don’t worry if not, training will be provided. Open to all major students. Pay rate $10-15/hr depending on experience.

Instructors - Some computer science and programming background required. Primarily working with small group of students 13-17 years old. Instructors will give 20-40 min lecture to all age students (7-17) each week, then help 13-17 year-old with weekly coding projects in the lab. Pay rate depends on experience.
Preferred Skills
Basic computer science and programming (for instructors)
