May 14, 2022

Greetings UNLV Upward Bound Math & Science Center Students & Parents,

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 2022 Summer Residential Program. We will deliver in-person summer instruction and enrichment. Our commitment to excellent content, interactive delivery, and support will aid each student with academic success. We count on parental support and student commitment to participation in challenging academic courses, college and career planning, and personal enrichment workshops. Do not fear! We are here to support you every step of the way. The Summer Residential Program will be a meaningful learning experience as we cultivate a strong community of scholarship among all participants. "#UB Cares, #UB United."

The following pages of this handbook will provide an overview of the summer program expectations, policies, activities, and schedules. The safety of our program participants and staff is of the most significant importance. We are counting on each parent/guardian to partner with us to ensure that their student complies with the policies and procedures that have been developed to provide a safe and enjoyable virtual summer.

Class schedules are personalized to suit the specific needs of each participant. In addition to the academic courses, students will participate in tutoring and various enrichment opportunities. We will provide technical support, supplies, and CCSD External Credit Applications to support participation.

Thank you for choosing to spend the summer with us! Please contact the UBMSC staff if you need additional information. We wish you and your family good health and well-being. See you on June 5, 2022!

Warm Regards,

Jennie E. Johnson, Director
UPWARD BOUND PLEDGE

I am an Upward Bound Student.
I have a brain, I put it to work.
I have ears, I listen to people.
I have a voice, I can communicate.
I have an imagination, I can create.
I have feelings, I respect other people.
I have a plan.
I am going to college!

FOR I AM AN UPWARD BOUND STUDENT!!!
The Federal TRIO Programs are educational opportunity programs designed to motivate and support students from disadvantaged backgrounds. TRIO includes seven distinct programs targeted to serve and assist students to progress in academics from middle school through college.

The history of TRIO is progressive—it began with Upward Bound, which emerged out of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 in response to the War on Poverty. In 1965, Talent Search, the second program, was created as part of the Higher Education Act. In 1968, Student Support Services, which was originally known as Special Services for Disadvantaged Students, was authorized by the Higher Education Amendments and became the third in a series of educational opportunity programs. By the late 1960’s, the term TRIO was coined to describe these three programs.

Over the years, the TRIO Programs have been expanded and improved to provide a wider range of services and to reach more students in need of assistance. The Higher Education Amendments of 1972 added the fourth program to the TRIO group by authorizing the Educational Opportunity Centers. The 1976 Education Amendments authorized the training program for Federal TRIO Programs, initially known as the Training Program for Special Programs Staff and Leadership Personnel. Amendments in 1986 added the sixth program, the Ronald E. McNair Post-Baccalaureate Achievement Program. Additionally, in 1990, the Department created the Upward Bound Math/Science program to address the need for specific instruction in the fields of math and science. The legislative requirements for all seven TRIO programs can be found in the Higher Education Act of 1965, Title IV, Part A, and Subpart 2.

The University of Nevada Las Vegas and the TRIO programs have a long-standing history. In 1966, Talent Search was the first program to be affiliated with UNLV, subsequently followed by Upward Bound (1967) and Special Services for Disadvantaged Students (1969). They were housed in the Moyer Student Union (MSU). In 1972, the programs moved to the Flora Dungan Humanities Building (FDH).

In 1978, Dr. William Sullivan, an alumnus of a Chicago-based Talent Search program himself, was hired as the Director for the Special Services for Disadvantaged Students program, which, due to past circumstances, was UNLV’s only TRIO program that year. In 1980, only two years after his arrival, Dr. Sullivan wrote the grants for Upward Bound, Talent Search, and Student Support Services, all of which were funded. The TRIO office then became known as the Department for Academic Advancement (DAA). In 1990, the office was moved from the Flora Dungan Humanities Building (FDH) to the first floor of the Student Services Complex (SSC).

The year of 1999 was a year of many changes—two more TRIO grants were funded, the Ronald E. McNair Post-Baccalaureate Achievement Program and the Upward Bound Math and Science Program (UB/MS). Due to large growth, the Department for Academic Achievement relocated some of its program offices to the Tropicana Offices Complex. Only Student Support Services and McNair Programs remained in the former office.

On April 6, 2000, the Department for Academic Advancement (DAA) completed the application and approval process to earn the Board of Regents designation as a UNLV Research Center. The department’s name was changed to The Center for Academic Enrichment and Outreach, or CAEO for short. Since then, CAEO was awarded two additional service programs—the Educational Opportunity Center (EOC) and Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs (GEAR UP), both in 2002. Additionally, in 2003, the Center for Academic Enrichment and Outreach became one of the key training entities for the Federal TRIO programs, which became known as the UNLV TRIO Training Institute. The Center conducts annual training for TRIO program staff and leadership personnel from across the country.

The Center for Academic Enrichment and Outreach currently houses 24 nationally competitive TRIO and GEAR UP grants, which serve more than 29,000 participants annually.

The UNLV Upward Bound Math & Science Center Summer Residential program is committed to excellence at all levels. You represent the diversity of our state and will be the future leaders of Nevada and our Nation. Together, we form one community, which reflects a variety of backgrounds and cultures. The quality of life within the program is best served by courteous and dignified interaction between all individuals, regardless of sex, ethnic or religious background, sexual orientation, or disability. Therefore, at no time will making threats, spreading rumors, attacking someone physically or verbally, and excluding someone from a group on purpose be tolerated.

Our community will work to develop and maintain a high degree of respect and civility for our wealth of diversity in which we are all fortunate to live and work. To ensure that this expectation is met and to foster mutual respect, each member of our community must commit to a positive and respectful attitude.

ACADEMIC EXPECTATIONS

TEXT BOOKS
Be prepared for class with the assigned text books, pens, pencils, and paper. Books will be provided by the program, and they are to remain on the UNLV campus at all times.

ACADEMIC NEED
An integral component of the UBMSC SRP is to prepare students to advocate for themselves. If you have difficulty with any of your courses or coursework (Upward Bound, CCSD Summer School or UNLV), please talk to your classroom instructor, Ms. Wood or Mrs. Johnson immediately. We will help you to explore options for overcoming the obstacles you have encountered.

ATTENDANCE
- If you are too sick to attend class, please notify an Upward Bound Math/Science Center SRP staff member immediately! The Upward Bound Math & Science Center SRP staff will call your parents and make the necessary arrangements.

- Any absences from an Upward Bound Math & Science Center SRP class will only be excused if you complete the Absence Form within 24 hours of the class period you miss. This form must be signed by your parents or by an Upward Bound Math & Science Center SRP staff member. Please note: excessive absences (excused and/or unexcused) from Upward Bound Math & Science Center SRP courses will prevent you from earning CCSD Enrichment credit this summer. Poor attendance may also prevent you from being eligible for the College Tour.

- CCSD Summer School attendance is mandatory for students who are registered for CCSD Summer School. Absences and/or tardies will be reported to parents immediately.

- Missed assignments must be submitted within three (3) days of an excused absence.

COMPUTER USE
Use of the UNLV computing resources is a privilege, not a right. Appropriate use of UNLV computing resources means obeying all UNLV and NSHE regulations, state, and federal laws.

1. Privacy: Computer files, electronic mail, and computing accounts SHALL NOT be absolutely private and may be subject to access by various authorized persons in compliance with the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.
2. Users shall not engage in activities that compromise computer security, circumvent controls, disrupt services, or violate computer etiquette.
3. Use of FACEBOOK, YOUTUBE/TWITTER, and other online systems during class time is prohibited. Inappropriate use of computers will result in limited or denied access to computer labs and other disciplinary action.
UNLV Upward Bound Math & Science Center (UBMSC) expects students to perform academic tasks with the highest standards of honesty and integrity with the support of parents, staff, administration, and the community. The learning process requires students to think, process, organize, and create their ideas. Throughout this process, students gain knowledge, self-respect, and ownership of the work that they do. These qualities provide a solid foundation for life skills, impacting them positively throughout their lives. Cheating and plagiarism violate the fundamental learning process and compromise personal integrity and one's honor. Students demonstrate academic honesty and integrity by not cheating, plagiarizing, or using information unethically in any way. Below is a list of acts of dishonesty. Be sure to read these carefully. And be sure to never do them. The consequences for committing any of the following acts may result in immediate suspension from the Summer Program.

ACTS OF DISHONESTY:

1. Plagiarism is the act of representing another's ideas, words, expressions, or data in writing or presentation without properly acknowledging the source.
2. Submitting work through the use of another person’s password/login is considered dishonest behavior. Any assignments, work, or projects posted while using another student’s login will be considered plagiarism.
3. Cheating (intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized material, assistance, or study aids in any academic work). Cheating includes when a student copies another student’s work and then submits it as his or her own work; or submitting the same assignment to two separate teachers.
4. Performing work or taking an examination for another student OR having another person perform work or take an examination.
5. Falsification and/or misrepresentation of data by submitting false data or sources.
6. Computer crimes include damaging computer programs, hacking, constructing viruses, introducing viruses into a system, or copying programs.
7. Inappropriate use of email, discussion forums, or synchronous chat.
To ensure the classroom environment is conducive to learning, students are held to the highest level of behavioral expectations. Outstanding citizenship is expected. Staff members will be addressed by using appropriate titles (e.g., Dr., Mr., Mrs., Ms.). Fellow students will be addressed by their names. Derogatory name-calling is strictly prohibited. As an Upward Bound Math & Science Center student preparing for college, positive, supportive, and mature behaviors are expected. Harmful and dangerous behaviors such as cheating, stealing, and physical or mental harassment is unbecoming of an Upward Bound Math & Science Center student and will not be tolerated. In addition, profanity, alcohol consumption, drug use, vaping, and tobacco use will not be tolerated.

2. Walk to all destinations throughout the campus in groups of a minimum of three (3) students.

3. Demonstrate good citizenship, courtesy, and decorum at all times.

4. Return trash, dishes, cups, and silverware to the cleanup area and maintain an appropriate noise level in the dining commons.

5. No food, drinks (other than a sealed bottle of water), candy, or gum is allowed inside any UNLV classroom or computer lab.

6. Use all UNLV elevators responsibly. Do not overcrowd, play, vandalize, or block access to them. Misuse of the elevators will result in the loss of elevator privileges and other disciplinary action.

7. During Upward Bound Math & Science Center SRP passing periods, do not talk loudly, loiter, or horseplay in the hallways. Go immediately to your next class and do not disturb other classes. Be quiet in the halls before, after, and between classes. UNLV classes follow a different time schedule. UNLV professors will be conducting college classes during the time we change classes. Please afford them the courtesy of silence.

Remember, UNIVERSITY COURSES ARE IN SESSION.
Appropriate attire will be required at all times. Student’s dress, personal appearance, and conduct are required to be of such character as not to disrupt or detract from the educational environment of the school. Any style which tends to diminish instructional effectiveness or discipline control by teachers is not acceptable. (https://ccsd.net/district/policies-regulations/pdf/5131_R.pdf)

MEALS
Meals will be served in the Hazel Wilson Dining Commons with the Upward Bound Math & Science SRP staff present. Healthy diets are extremely important for success in academics and life. Therefore, students are expected to eat every meal and are required, per USDA, to select a nutritious, well-balanced meal from the available menu. Please see the chart on page 24.

MEDICATION ADMINISTRATION
As prescribed by law to prevent the unauthorized use of drugs, all medications (both prescription medications and over-the-counter drugs that are potentially hazardous if misused) will be collected upon check-in by an Upward Bound Math & Science Center security staff member. The security staff member will keep all medication in a locked cabinet. No medication will be allowed in student rooms.

VEHICLES
Automobiles and motorcycles are not permitted on campus due to issues of security, parking permits, and student safety unless an exception has been granted. An exception is granted when written permission from the program director or assistant director is received, and a UNLV parking permit has been obtained. Keys are to be kept with security and to be checked in and out when leaving the residence hall and upon returning back to UBMSC. Vehicles can only be use for the reason stated (i.e., work, practices, etc). Students are not permitted to transport other participants. Parking permit fees and fines are the responsibility of the student.

LIGHTS OUT/WAKE UP
Adequate rest and preparation are essential components of college success. Therefore, we will provide you with an opportunity to prepare for college by instituting a strict lights out and wake-up schedule. LIGHTS OUT is 11:00 PM. All personal business must be completed at that time, and students must be in bed. Each day starts with a 6:00 AM WAKE UP. Students will report to breakfast by 7:00 AM (CCSD Summer School students report to breakfast by 6:30 AM). All personal business must be complete at that time and the student must be ready to begin the day.
ROOMMATE POLICY

The Upward Bound Math & Science Center SRP Staff will assign roommates. Participants in the Upward Bound Math/Science Center SRP will meet new people while also strengthening old friendships. Adjusting to a new roommate teaches students life skills-cooperation, assertiveness, and flexibility. Participants are expected to be proactive in the efforts to form bonds with others.

UNLV POLICY AGAINST UNLAWFUL HARASSMENT

UNLV Upward Bound Math & Science Center (UBMSC) is committed to providing an educational and work environment that is free of sexual harassment, as well as other unlawful harassment based on such factors as race, color, age, religion, ancestry, national origin, marital status, sex, gender, sexual orientation, medical condition including pregnancy, veteran status, physical or mental disability, and genetic characteristics. In keeping with this commitment, UBMSC maintains a strict policy that prohibits unlawful harassment of employees by managers, supervisors, or co-workers and students by teachers, coaches, counselors and peer advisors. Visitors to the campus and workers employed by the University of Nevada Las Vegas, other auxiliaries, and other public or private organizations engaged in business with UBMSC are expected to comply with this policy. The purpose of this policy is to: (1) familiarize UBMSC employees with the definition of unlawful harassment and the forms it can take; (2) confirm that unlawful harassment will not be tolerated and is contrary to the standards of conduct expected and required of UBMSC employees; and (3) make clear that employees who engage in unlawful harassment are subject to possible disciplinary action which may include discharge.

POLICY AGAINST SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual Harassment is Illegal under Federal and State Law

The Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) is committed to providing a place of work and learning free of sexual harassment, including sexual violence. Where sexual harassment is found to have occurred, the NSHE will act to stop the harassment, to prevent its recurrence, to remedy its effects, and to discipline those responsible in accordance with the NSHE Code or, in the case of classified employees, the Nevada Administrative Code. Sexual harassment, including sexual violence, is a form of discrimination; it is illegal.

No employee or student, either in the workplace or in the academic environment, should be subject to unwelcome verbal or physical conduct that is sexual in nature. Sexual harassment does not refer to occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature. It refers to behavior of a sexual nature that is not welcome, that is personally offensive, and that interferes with performance. It is expected that students, faculty and staff will treat one another with respect.

Policy Applicability and Sanctions

All students, faculty, staff, and other members of the campus community are subject to this policy. Individuals who violate this policy are subject to discipline up to and including termination and/or expulsion, in accordance with the NSHE Code (or applicable Student Code of Conduct) or, in the case of classified employees, the Nevada Administrative Code. Other, lesser sanctions may be imposed, depending on the circumstances.
Sexual Harassment Practices
Under this policy, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other visual, verbal or physical conduct of a sexual or gender bias nature constitute sexual harassment when:

i. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic status;

ii. Submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for academic or employment decisions or evaluations, or permission to participate in an activity; or

iii. The conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual's academic or work performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment in which to work or learn.

Sexual harassment may take many forms — subtle and indirect, or blatant and overt. For example:

a. It may occur between individuals of the opposite sex or of the same sex.

b. It may occur between students, between peers and/or co-workers, or between individuals in an unequal power relationship (such as by a supervisor with regard to a supervised employee or an instructor regarding a current student).

c. It may be aimed at coercing an individual to participate in an unwanted sexual relationship or it may have the effect of causing an individual to change behavior or work performance.

d. It may consist of repeated actions or may even arise from a single incident if sufficiently severe.

e. It may also rise to the level of a criminal offense, such as battery or sexual violence.

f. Sexual violence is a physical act perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent due to the victim's use of drugs or alcohol.

An individual also may be unable to give consent due to an intellectual or other disability. Sexual violence includes, but is not limited to, rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, and sexual coercion.

Determining what constitutes sexual harassment under this policy is dependent upon the specific facts and the context in which the conduct occurs. Some conduct may be inappropriate, unprofessional, and/or subject to disciplinary action, but would not fall under the definition of sexual harassment. The specific action taken, if any, in a particular instance depends on the nature and gravity of the conduct reported, and may include disciplinary processes as stated above.

Examples of unwelcome conduct of a sexual or gender related nature that may constitute sexual harassment may, but do not necessarily, include, and are not limited to:

h. Rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, sexual coercion or other sexual violence;

i. Sexually explicit or gender related statements, comments, questions, jokes, innuendoes, anecdotes, or gestures;

j. Other than customary handshakes, uninvited touching, patting, hugging, or purposeful brushing against a person's body or other inappropriate touching of an individual's body;

k. Remarks of a sexual nature about a person's clothing or body;

1. Use of electronic mail or computer dissemination of sexually oriented, sex-based communications;
2. Sexual advances, whether or not they involve physical touching;
3. Requests for sexual favors in exchange for actual or promised job or educational benefits, such as favorable reviews, salary increases, promotions, increased benefits, continued employment, grades, favorable assignments, letters of recommendation;
4. Displaying sexually suggestive objects, pictures, magazines, cartoons, or screen savers;
5. Inquiries, remarks, or discussions about an individual's sexual experiences or activities and other written or oral references to sexual conduct.
6. Even one incident, if it is sufficiently serious, may constitute sexual harassment. One incident, however, does not usually constitute sexual harassment.

COMPLAINT AND INVESTIGATION PROCEDURE

This section provides the complaint and investigation procedure for complaints of discrimination or sexual harassment, including sexual violence (except that complaints against students may be referred to student disciplinary processes). The Chancellor (for the System Office) and each president shall designate no fewer than two administrators to receive complaints. The administrators designated to receive the complaints may include the following: (1) the Title IX Coordinator; (2) the Affirmative Action Program Officer; (3) the Human Resources Officer; or (4) any other officer designated by the president.

Complaints of discrimination or sexual harassment should be filed as soon as possible with the supervisor, department chair, dean, or one of the administrators listed above and/or designated by the president to receive complaints of alleged sexual harassment or discrimination.

Employees

1. An employee who believes that he or she has been subjected to discrimination or sexual harassment by anyone is encouraged—but it is neither necessary nor required, particularly if it may be confrontational—to promptly tell the person that the conduct is unwelcome and ask the person to stop the conduct. An employee is not required to do this before filing a complaint. A person who receives such a request must immediately comply with it and must not retaliate against the employee.
2. The employee may file a discrimination or sexual harassment complaint with his or her immediate supervisor, who will in turn immediately contact one of the officials listed above.
3. If the employee feels uncomfortable about discussing the incident with the immediate supervisor, the employee should feel free to bypass the supervisor and file a complaint with one of the other listed officials or with any other supervisor.
COMPLAINT AND INVESTIGATION PROCEDURE

Non-Employees and Non-Students
Individuals who are neither NSHE employees nor NSHE students and who believe they have been subjected to discrimination or sexual harassment by a NSHE employee during the employee's work hours or by a NSHE student on campus or at a NSHE-sponsored event may utilize any of the complaint processes set forth above in this section.

Prompt Attention
Complaints of discrimination or sexual harassment are taken seriously and will be dealt with promptly, thoroughly, impartially, and equitably. Where discrimination is found to have occurred, the NSHE institution or unit where it occurred will act to stop the discrimination or sexual harassment, to prevent its recurrence, to remedy its effects, if any, and to discipline those responsible.

Confidentiality
The NSHE recognizes that confidentiality is important. However, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed. The administrators, faculty or staff responsible for implementing this policy will respect the privacy of individuals reporting or accused of discrimination or sexual harassment to the extent reasonably possible and will maintain confidentiality to the extent possible. Examples of situations where confidentiality cannot be maintained include, but are not limited to, necessary disclosures during an investigation, circumstances where the NSHE is required by law to disclose information (such as in response to legal process), or when an individual is in harm's way.

Retaliation
Retaliation against an individual who in good faith complains of alleged discrimination or sexual harassment or provides information in an investigation about behavior that may violate this policy is against the law, will not be tolerated, and may be grounds for discipline. Retaliation in violation of this policy may result in discipline up to and including termination and/or expulsion.
Any employee or student bringing a discrimination or sexual harassment complaint or assisting in the investigation of such a complaint will not be adversely affected in terms and conditions of employment and/or academic standing, nor discriminated against, terminated, or expelled because of the complaint. Intentionally providing false information is also grounds for discipline.

The UBMSC BRIDGE program offers graduated high school senior participants the opportunity to "get their feet wet" for college by taking a college course at the University of Nevada Las Vegas (UNLV) during the summer following their graduation. The credits from this course are transferable to the institution of our participants’ choice.

BRIDGE students take a course in math, if appropriate, or in other academic areas. Students earn 3 credit hours which transfer to the college they have chosen. UBMSC provides tutoring services, college counseling and cover all fees, tuition and supplies for the course.

BRIDGE students are required to attend mandatory tutoring to help them in completing their studies successfully.

BRIDGE students enrolled in a UNLV course have access to the university (library, Recreation Center, computer labs, etc.). Bridge participants may receive a regular Rebel Card or carry a printout of their class as proof of their UNLV enrollment status.

All UBMSC rules and regulations apply to all of our students regardless of grade level. Bridge students are not exempt from the UBMSC rules!

Our BRIDGE students represent one of the important goals of our program -- to ensure that our participants enter college, with an attitude toward successful completion of their college studies.

Bridge students, are to be positive role models for the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade UBMSC Participants. They have time to complete their college admission process. Nationwide university office hours are from 8:00am – 5:00pm with some admission offices such as UNLV having extended hours until 7:00pm. Bridge participants have a shorter class schedule than the average UBMSC participant and should use their time wisely.

Bridge students are to submit a copy of their syllabus to Ms. Jordan via the UBMSC email (upwardbound@unlv.edu) so that the UBMSC team can properly assist you with obtaining the highest grade possible.

The Math Bridge Program is an online program designed to help students gain the skills and confidence needed for success in college-level mathematics with a goal of improving their placement scores, using ALEKS. The program combines online learning through customized modules with instruction from expert math instructors and peer tutors to help students gain a better understanding of core math concepts and overcome anxiety about math. In addition to math instruction and skill development, students are introduced to various campus resources and peers to help build a strong foundation for success at UNLV. Our Math Bridge team works to help students develop a growth mindset and reach their goals as they navigate through a five or eight-week program. Currently, all Math Bridge sessions are conducted during summer sessions for eligible students.

The program utilizes and online platform, ALEKS to evaluate students’ learning and to create customized content for each student. ALEKS is also used as the math placement software for UNLV. Most students that participate in Math Bridge find success in raising their ALEKS score to their goal level, which allows them to enroll in a different 100-level math course for their desired major.
