Roles and Responsibilities
Why NetSuite?

To start, you’ll be surrounded by smart, innovative, caring people — invested in our customers and the community. If you’re looking to share your unique perspective and ideas at a collaborative table and help equip all kinds of businesses achieve their visions, check us out.

Summary:

What we have to offer:

Our Global Analyst Development Program prepares entry level candidates for an exciting and rewarding career at NetSuite. Associate Web Developers will participate in an initial three month enablement program focused on building NetSuite product knowledge with respect to extending the SuiteCommerce platform to handle the needs of our largest customers.
You will learn first-hand how NetSuite SuiteCommerce impacts our customers’ businesses by working alongside our seasoned PS Web Developers on projects; thereby gaining valuable experience.

Responsibilities:

As an Associate Web Developer you will have the opportunity to make immediate contributions to the organization.

You will work with JavaScript to build custom solutions for our SuiteCommerce clients, creating reusable components with JavaScript, and also work with JQuery templates and JSON files to expose data to the front-end.

You will use existing methods and best practices to develop new techniques as appropriate to create features and extensions with the highest levels of security, reliability, efficiency, and scalability.

All the while you will be communicating with the Project Manager on project progress and/or delays.

Successful Associate Web Developers progress into Web Developer positions within the NetSuite Professional Services Organization.

Why this is a (really) great opportunity:

There are too many reasons to list, so let’s start with our employee motto:

Dare to be yourself – We look for talented, passionate employees with drive and energy. You are encouraged to drive your own career - learn, stretch, grow and make a difference. What differentiates NetSuite as an employer?

The most significant difference we heard from our employees was that if you work for NetSuite, there are literally no limits to what you can accomplish and how far you can go with your career and with the company. We pride ourselves on building and promoting a culture of teamwork.

You are encouraged to take interest in different areas and projects, share your ideas and innovate. You are invited to achieve success on your own terms. There are “no rules” and “no politics” regarding your level of participation and contribution.

There really is no limit to what you can contribute and what you can achieve at NetSuite. And, your contributions will be rewarded and appreciated. Success is in your hands. Learn. Grow. Develop. Contribute. Make a Difference…..
