APPLICATION ENGINEER

Posting ID: EM20418535

Company: Hexagon Manufacturing Intelligence

Position Type: Full-Time

College Major(s): Mechanical Engineering (ME)

Company Website: https://www.hexagonmi.com/en-us

Work Location: Kent, WA

Salary:

College Level(s): Undergraduate-Senior, Graduate Student, PhD. Student, Alumni

OVERVIEW

Hexagon Manufacturing Intelligence, a division of Hexagon Metrology is seeking an Applications Engineer for our Kent, Washington location.

At Hexagon Manufacturing Intelligence, our spirited energy and engagement are evident in our commitment to our work, passion for what we do and the speed by which we achieve it. Here you will find the opportunity to build your career, develop professionally, and explore opportunities across a large, diversified company that prides itself on its innovative spirit and commitment to integrity.

We understand that we have an ability to impact the trends and changes affecting everything and everyone that will result in a better, smarter world for all. Consider joining a team of talented and dynamic individuals who are living the latest technology and making a quality difference in our world!

At this time, we will consider applicants who are legally authorized to work in the United States without company sponsorship. No relocation.

Description:
As the Applications Engineer you will provide technical and sales support for all the applications of Hexagon products encompassing metrology, demonstration, functionality, and performance. In addition, you will be responsible for quoting and managing contract programming tasks and performing product training.

Roles and Responsibilities
- Effectively communicate benefits of Hexagon's products
- Provide product demonstrations of hardware and software to prospective customers
- Assist regional sales team, provide product recommendations for customers' applications
- Develop, prepare, and conduct training classes to customers in machine operations and programming
- Create training programs and tools to meet customer's needs
Prepare detailed technical specifications for quotations
Crate programs ranging from simple inspection to complicated logic based graphical user interfaced based on customer specifications
Provide technical support to our customer both onsite and by phone
Assist engineering and marketing groups in new product development from inception through release

Education and Qualifications
Minimum of 2 years' experience in Manufacturing Engineering or Quality Engineering Bachelors' degree in Engineering, Mathematics, or equivalent combination of education and work experience
Proficiency in programming
Experience with MS Office
Knowledge of 3D CAD
Ability to travel up to 75%

Preferred Skills
Hexagon Metrology, Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer ? M/F/Vet/Disability ? E-Verify Participant

How to Apply