OVERVIEW

We're bringing data analytics to elementary education and you would play a direct and integral part of that dream. You would work directly with founders in the development of software that will go directly to helping teachers teach math and make decisions. Posted length of internship is 60 days, however it can be extended if performance exceeds expectations.

Roles and Responsibilities
Front End software development

Education and Qualifications
Sophomore and above with working knowledge of C# or Java. Project ownership and entrepreneurial can-do attitude are required, along with ability to take direct instruction and constructive criticism.

Preferred Skills
Experience with Unity is a plus, but not required
