Slickdeals is the leading crowdsourced shopping platform, where 11 million users interact to share the most up-to-date information on online shopping deals and coupons. Through the power of crowdsourcing, Slickdeals has saved members over $6 billion by providing a forum for communication, as well as shopping tools such as its free Android or iOS apps. Slickdeals consistently ranks in the Top 100 most visited sites in the U.S. per Alexa.

Roles and Responsibilities
As a product management intern at Slickdeals, you will be responsible for the product discovery and money saving experiences of 12M visitors across 200M visits every month.

You will support a product manager to help guide the vision, user experience, engineering execution, and delivery of features that help shoppers win everywhere.

You will do quantitative and qualitative analysis to determine what features we launch next and why. If you are a creative thinker who is obsessed with intuitive experiences that benefit humanity you will thrive here.
