Awards
Awards are given to exemplary students for a particular purpose in support of their education. Examples include travel awards for conferences, the Outstanding Graduate Student Teaching Award, and the Outstanding Thesis & Dissertation awards.

Student Success Institute Programs
Professional development programs help graduate students develop and hone their skills. Examples include the Rebel Research and Mentorship Program, Teaching Certification, and Graduate Student Showcase.

Graduate Assistantships
Both a financial opportunity and an invaluable professional experience, graduate assistantships provide tuition waivers, stipends, and an opportunity to work with faculty and administration to research, teach, and move forward important projects.

Fellowships
Given to the best and brightest graduate students, fellowships cover tuition and fees and provide a stipend, allowing students to focus on research and completing their degree.

Graduate Assistant Fellowships
Graduate assistant fellowships are supplemental awards that support the research/scholarship/creative activity, conference travel, etc., of master’s and doctoral students who already hold a graduate assistantship.

Summer Doctoral Research Fellowships
Awarded to outstanding doctoral students who have demonstrated excellence in their field of study, Summer Doctoral Research Fellowships cover tuition and provide a stipend, helping reduce students’ time to degree through summer support.

Scholarships
Scholarships help offset the cost of graduate education for students and can make the difference for students considering graduate school at UNLV. Named scholarships are awarded based on criteria established by their donor.
