ATHLETES' GRAD REBEL ADVANTAGE

The Athletes' Grad Rebel Advantage program provides UNLV undergraduate student athletes with mentorship, workshops, and professional development opportunities to help prepare them for graduate studies at UNLV or elsewhere. It is part of the larger Grad Rebel Advantage program, which provides the same opportunities for all undergraduate students at UNLV.

It is projected that 22 percent more jobs will require a master's degree and 20 percent more jobs will require a doctoral or professional degree in the coming decade. The Athletes' Grad Rebel Advantage program helps address this growing demand and ensures that UNLV's student athletes are prepared to win in the workforce.

ELIGIBILITY

The Athletes' Grad Rebel Advantage program is open to UNLV undergraduate student athletes who:

- are enrolled full-time (minimum 12 credits per semester) during their Grad Rebel Advantage year
- are in good standing with the University
- have completed 60+ credit hours at the time they apply to the program
- have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75
- have the endorsement of a coach, faculty member, or academic advisor

APPLICATION PROCESS

Acceptance to the program is competitive. Applications, including a coach/faculty/advisor endorsement, must be submitted by April 15.
