UNLV HONORS COLLEGE
WRITING BOOT CAMP

Preparing for Honors 100 & Beyond

Wednesday, August 14th @ 10:00am
Thursday, August 15th @ 1:00pm
Tuesday, August 20th @ 10:00am
Wednesday, August 21st @ 2:00pm

Honors College Conference Room (RLL 134)

Students will review and practice essay basics in preparation for their writing-intensive Honors 100 classes. We will discuss what Honors 100 entails, and review how to write introductions, body paragraphs, and conclusions, practice writing effective thesis statements, learn the difference between quoting and paraphrasing, review MLA, and identify common grammar mistakes.

This interactive workshop offers an opportunity to practice writing skills and ask questions before classes officially start.

All UNLV Honors 100 students are welcome! Students should come prepared to take notes. *Please note: you will need a parking permit or to pay for a metered spot if you park on campus.

Workshops are facilitated by Honors Writing Consultant, Clayton Cobb
