OVERVIEW

Deere & Company (NYSE: DE) is a world leader in providing advanced products and services and is committed to the success of customers whose work is linked to the land - those who cultivate, harvest, transform, enrich and build upon the land to meet the world's dramatically increasing need for food, fuel, shelter and infrastructure. Since 1837, John Deere has delivered innovative products of superior quality built on a tradition of integrity.

Roles and Responsibilities
An environmental engineer supports environmental programs that impact a manufacturing facility. You will:

- Conduct analysis of test or lab results to determine potential problems to the environment.

- Communicate results of analysis and interpretation to appropriate work group for awareness and any required remedial action.

- Utilize acquired knowledge of environmental regulations to respond to questions or requests for information relevant to environmental issues from work groups inside and/or outside the company.

- Compile necessary data, documentation and correspondence to comply with environmental regulations and Environmental Management System (EMS) requirements.

Education and Qualifications
- Must be pursuing a Bachelors or Masters degree in Environmental Engineering, Environmental Science or related technical degree.

- Desired cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above on a 4.0 scale. Minimum cumulative GPA required of 2.8 on a 4.0 scale.

- Knowledge of manufacturing processes and factory operations.
- Project management experience
- Proficient with Microsoft Office software
- Basic knowledge of engineering statics and introductory knowledge of environmental regulations.

How to Apply