Dietetic Internship Program

Deadlines for the January 2021 Start Date

SPECIAL NOTE DUE TO COVID-19

We are experiencing unprecedented times in Las Vegas due to COVID-19. Our program is accredited to accept up to 17 students per match/round. Due to the uncertainty of our hospitals and community practice sites, we cannot guarantee how many interns we will accept during this Fall 2021 match. We will keep our applicants informed as we progress through the application process.

In addition to the number of students, we also cannot guarantee the program dates. Interns may be delayed in their start date, disrupted from their rotations and then end dates would be delayed. Safety of our students is our first priority.

Interns will be required to comply with all policies and procedures. This includes but is not limited to COVID-19 testing as needed and vaccination as it is available.

Selection of Applicants

Applications are reviewed by UNLV Nutrition Sciences faculty, one of which is the DPND Director and Community Preceptor. We examine GPA (science, DPND, and overall), work and volunteer experience, and letters of recommendation. Applicants are compared to others in the pool, so it is different each round. We often have had many high quality applicants, who excel in all three areas. The best thing to do is to make sure those areas are strong. We cannot disclose the information in your letters, so you must judge the quality of your letters by talking to the person you selected to write for you. Unfortunately, if your GPA is not stellar, then the only way to correct that is to re-take classes and we realize this is not an easy or inexpensive endeavor. Gaining experience is always an option and through that experience, it may be possible to gain strong letters.

Successful candidates are strong in all three areas and demonstrate exceptional skills through projects or experience. These individuals clearly demonstrate their skills, relate it to the internship, and are perfectly polished in the interview process.

If selected for an interview, applications are forwarded to our Hospital Preceptors. The interviews will be virtual and will require a computer with internet access. Your interview will be conducted via WebEx and will be recorded and shared with UNLV staff and program preceptors. Interviews are approximately 15 minutes in length.
