

K-20 Education Collaborative Advisory Board

Education Collaborative Advisory Board members are community leaders who advise and guide The Lincy Institute in its mission of improving quality-of-life issues for children, seniors, and families in Southern Nevada. The purpose of Education Collaborative Advisory Board is to help The Lincy Institute in its mission to increase the capacity of nonprofit education agencies and organizations to improve education in Southern Nevada. By providing expertise and professional insight, the advisory board guides The Lincy Institute in its efforts to identify community priorities and develop research-informed K-20 education policies and practices.

The ECAB members are committed to the following guiding principles:

- Open, honest, and transparent communication
- Innovative and entrepreneurial approaches
- Compassionate, solution-focused, and strengths-based approaches to community partnerships and assessments
- A focus on “community good” and “potential for improvement”
- Data-driven decisions
- Systems thinking

Education Collaborative Advisory Board members are appointed by The Lincy Institute and serve two-year terms. Advisory Board members have vast experience in a variety of agencies and organizations and are known for their dedication to serving the community.

About The Lincy Institute

Established in 2009, The Lincy Institute conducts and supports research that focuses on improving Nevada’s health, education, and social services. This research will be used to build capacity for service providers and enhance efforts to draw state and federal money to the greater Las Vegas. The Lincy Institute will also highlight key issues that affect public policy and quality-of-life decisions on behalf of children, seniors, and families in Nevada. Robert E. Lang, Ph.D. serves as the Institute’s Executive Director.
