Other(s) present: Tad McDowell, Director of Parking and Transportation Services

President Pierce called the meeting to order at 10:01 p.m.

1. PUBLIC COMMENT - none

2. APPROVAL OF MINUTES

A request was made to approve the May 2nd, 2016 Summer Council meeting minutes. College of Sciences motioned to approve the May 2nd minutes. College of Education seconded the motion. There was no discussion. The minutes were approved unanimously.

3. SPEAKER

Tad McDowell, Director of Parking and Transportation Services, discussed with the current and planned parking and transportation issues/projects for UNLV. Currently a new parking garage is under construction on Maryland Parkway. This project is scheduled to be completed by December or January. A second structure should be completed by 2022. A location for the second structure is under consideration. The use of more technology is being considered, i.e. incorporating sophisticated applications to provide better parking, additional lighting in parking structures, lot signs and the current visitor booth will be replaced. Several of the projects are projected to provide student employment opportunities. There is a push to be more cognizant of motorcycle rider’s needs, etc. Plans for the upcoming 2016 Presidential Debate include collaborating with McCarran Airport for the use of their reserve parking space. Busing will be provided to guest and visitors, and the allotment of parking spaces is under discussion. Currently there are 610 spaces being allocated for the debate. Questions were taken: College of Education enquired about the allotted spaces and questioned the app being developed. Again, 610 spaces are presently being allotted for the debate; and due to the student culture, the question of the app being synchronized with license plates is under discussion. College of Sciences asked about students that had more than one car and parking spaces. Mr. McDowell responded that currently, students are permitted to have up to 7 cars registered for parking; and due to security reasons. College of Sciences also asked how long the Presidential Debate will require spaces. Mr. McDowell replied that with busing visitors the parking situation could change with the request by the Secret Service. President Pierce thanked Mr. McDowell for the UNLV parking updates.

Lifetime Transcript Fee

I. Statement of Issue:
A request has been made, or an inquiry submitted, regarding the need/desire to institute a “lifetime” fee for transcripts. The business case for this request has not been fully articulated, nor have the details of exactly what the expectations are, so some assumptions will be made during the initial review of the current process of transcript requests and associated fees. Therefore, the following assumptions will be made:

a. All students will pay one fee that would enable them to request and receive as many “official” transcripts from UNLV as they desire, throughout their lifetime.
b. The volume of multiple transcript requests, or the impacts of not providing this service, is significant enough to change the current model.
c. Any adjustment made to the model must take into account future costs as well as the current funding model.

II. Background on the current transcript fee:
The “transcript fee” is part of the Enroll Management Fee account (2221-269-7517) that supports all Enrollment and Student Services AVP activities and any other ESS budget shortfalls. This account supports the enrollment management area of the university, more substantially the offices of the Registrar and Admissions. While several fees make up the whole of this account, it should be noted that not all of the revenue generated by the fees remains in the account (e.g. some percentage of monies are transferred to other departments per agreements). The account receives a portion of application fees paid by domestic and international students to offset resource expenses to process admissions and/or conduct enrollment activities. Additionally, the account receives the revenue for a non-admitted student fee, transcript & postage fees, and a portion of the semester fee paid by international students. Again, these fees supplement limited State resources and enable the area to provide more timely and effective services to students.

Given the current funding model of the university and the usage of the Enrollment Management Fee (account), focusing in on one fee without regards to this model, the impact of other fees and what they cumulative cover is not recommended. However, in an attempt to provide an overview for discussion of the Transcript Fee it will be reviewed as part of the Enrollment Management Fee and contributes in the following way:

1) The account receives the revenue for a transcript & postage fees. These fees supplement limited state resources and enable the area to provide more timely and effective services to students.

2) This account supports the enrollment management area of the university, more specifically the offices of the Registrar, Admissions and Enrollment Service Center. These functions include processing of transfer students, degree audit, grades posting, enrollment changes, student data changes, graduation, etc.
3) Areas like Veterans Services, Enterprise Application Services and Enrollment Technology teams do not have a self-supporting accounts, and therefore this fee supports their staff (salaries) as well as their activities (operating).

4) This fee supports at least 4-6 positions at any given time (professional, classified, graduate assistants an hourly employees) from ESS area that may or may not directly be related to the fee.

5) This account also supports Admissions related shortfalls to maintain yearly recruitment efforts.

6) Fee is also used to support AVP’s activities with professional travel funding, contractual needs, special projects, infrastructure improvements (including new computers and furniture)

7) In the past (prior to 2011), this fee support the services of Disability Resources Center (DRC), federally mandated service provided at UNLV; where budget requests exceed $150,000/year.

III. Budget Needs/Operating Costs

Transcript fee enables Enrollment & Student Services areas to perform its essential functions, allowing these areas to provide more timely and effective services to students.

The fee increased from $5 to $10 during a Board of Regent meeting in December 2010, in order to support continuous demands in this area, along with the growing costs of products (software and other), mailings, and staff’s time. It should be noted that the transcript fee was targeted as source for this increase not only because the fee was low (and still remains lower than many peer institutions), but that there was not an appetite for growing other existing fees (e.g. graduation, etc.) or creating new ones to pay for services that were (and are currently) provided for free.

The current $10 transcript fee covers postage, ink, paper and staff’s time required to pull up individual records, take orders over the phone, print, and mail the transcript. We currently offer same day (walk-in) transcript orders, as well as online orders that are processed within 3-5 business days, and available for pick-up or mailing on behalf of the student to desired destination (all USPS domestic and international postage fees apply). Unofficial transcripts are always free of charge, and accessible by students at any time.

In addition, the fee support many of the other services provided within ESS, including salary of Director of Veteran Services (no state allocation for this area, with the veteran student body of 1,200 students). Lastly, the fees pays for annual licenses for software within ESS, including Graduate Assistant AY Application used by Graduate College ($60,000).

IV. What Other School are Doing

Through quick, but limited, research, we found that there are number of schools that have adopted the lifetime transcript fee, or a combination of the fee. Additional data on the schools that are currently administering the lifetime transcript fee and what model would work at UNLV needs to be collected and assessed. What is clear is that, from a cursory view, many of the institutions charge for other services that we currently do not charge for, or have other fees that are much higher than fees that we have, which area all currently supported from our Enrollment Management Fee account.

For example, such a model like one that is used at The University of Chicago (UChicago) where students have an option to pay for individual transcript or pay for the lifetime transcript fee might be considered a suitable option for UNLV, but before engaging in such a move we would need to revisit our current funding model and compare to their full funding models to determine the prudent path and to not incur any unintended consequences.

Below are a few schools and their transcript fee models:

While not an exhaustive list by any means, and not a full review of all of their fees, it is clear that while they do provide a lifetime fee, that fee is much higher (and their fee for individual transcripts is higher than our current fee, and they charge for rush or excessive requests as well).

V. UNLV Volume

In reviewing some data regarding the demand for transcripts we looked first at what volume of requests was being submitted from our graduated students (e.g. students who received an undergraduate or graduate degree from UNLV). The majority of transcript requests at UNLV are for one to two transcripts. Only small percentage of students request multiple transcripts. A sample of 15,226* undergraduate transcript requests shows ¾ (74%) of all requests are for one or two transcripts, one in five students (22%) will order 3-5 transcripts, and only 5% of students request 6 or more transcripts. Graduate student behavior is very similar seeing the breakdown as 71%, 24% and 5% respectively.

The data suggests that, unless students are going/transferring to another school, students request only one to two transcripts. In addition, unless student/alumni are seeking employment outside of the higher education sector, most employers may seek verification that a degree was granted/received but often do not require a copy of the official transcript.

Further, in reviewing our current front line services areas, ESS has not received any major complaints about the current transcript fee. What we have seen is an elevated interest by some students in the ability to order a Secure Electronic PDF Transcript (e.g. this would allow students to receive or request an official transcript be sent to a recipient from a secure UNLV email, fully authenticated).
VI. UNLV Proposal

It is suggested that a clearer statement of the perceived problem be articulated, along with the stated goals related to instituting a “lifetime” fee. Based upon current volume, known “complaints”, and usage of “official” transcripts, it does not appear that a significant shift in practice is warranted. However, if such a shift is ultimately deemed necessary, a more extensive review of other existing fees and free services should be undertaken in order to determine the amount of the lifetime fee that would adequately cover any current and future costs.
