

Distinguished Lecture Series proudly presents:

Irene Davis, PT, PhD

Director of the Spaulding National Running Center
Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital, Cambridge

Professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation
Harvard Medical School

Join us for:

“Footwear Matters: Let’s Think Differently about the Foot”

Thursday, Nov. 15, 6-7:30 p.m. (0.15 CEUs)

Located on the Maryland Parkway Campus of UNLV
Science and Engineering Building (SEB) Auditorium

<https://www.unlv.edu/maps/seb>

Dr. Irene Davis is the founding director of the Spaulding National Running Center and Professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Harvard Medical School, and Professor Emeritus in Physical Therapy at University of Delaware where she taught for more than 20 years. Her research has focused on the relationship between lower extremity structure, injury, and mechanics, particularly the development of interventions to alter these mechanics through gait retraining.

She has given more than 350 lectures nationally and internationally, and authored nearly 150 publications on the topic of lower extremity mechanics during running. She is past president of the American Society of Biomechanics and current vice president of the American College of Sports Medicine.