Due to the transition to online/remote learning, many courses will have additional fees associated with them. These fees will be disclosed to you at the point of enrollment.

- When you are building your class schedule you can view any additional fees by clicking on the blue link under Class in your search results.
- Make sure you are looking at the Enrollment Information Tab
- If you need to pay additional fees for supplies, proctoring, software, etc. They will be listed in the Class Notes section
  - These fees may be new/updated to reflect the move to remote instruction. They may also be fees that have always been assessed as part of the course.
- Per credit fees (like differential fees) as well as special fees for the course will be listed in the bottom section. These are fees that would have been in place regardless of the transition to remote learning.
