For the Culture:
Resources for the African Diaspora
To the Students at UNLV within the Afrodescendant Diaspora,

You are embarking on a journey. A journey of growth, learning, and reflection.

Your journey at this university will not be easy, but it is our hope it will be worth it. Don’t let anyone treat you like a statistic, a token, or a quota. If you ever feel down during your time here, just remember you belong here. You are worthy, and the degrees you all are pursuing do not solely define you. At this university, and as a part of the Black community, we encourage you to challenge, critique, and ask questions.

You are worth more than test scores, your race is not a crime, and do not let your melanin be your melancholy; you were meant to be here. As Black faculty/staff, we see you, we hear you, and we are here to support you in the best way we can.

In Solidarity,
Black Faculty/Staff at UNLV
A Brief History

In order to know where you’re going, you need to know your history. Below is a brief timeline that talks about Black history specific to the Las Vegas community. Please note this is not an exhaustive timeline, as unfortunately, there are some historical events that have happened in Las Vegas that were not properly documented. As you navigate through life, always make sure you are doing whatever you can to protect our history. Our history is important, and it is crucial to preserve it, and prevent people from trying to erase it.

The history of the Green Book

The Negro Motorist Green Book (also The Negro Travelers’ Green Book, or simply the Green Book) was an annual guidebook for African-American travelers. It was originated and published by New York City mailman, Victor Hugo Green from 1936 to 1966, during the era of Jim Crow laws, when open and often legally prescribed discrimination against African Americans and other non-whites was widespread. Although pervasive racial discrimination and poverty limited black car ownership, the emerging African-American middle class bought automobiles as soon as they could, but faced a variety of dangers and inconveniences along the road, from refusal of food and lodging to arbitrary arrest. In response, Green wrote his guide to services and places relatively friendly to African-Americans, eventually expanding its coverage from the New York area to much of North America, as well as founding a travel agency.

African-American travelers faced hardships such as white-owned businesses refusing to serve them or repair their vehicles, being refused accommodation or food by white-owned hotels, and threats of physical violence and forcible expulsion from whites-only “sundown towns”. Green founded and published the Green Book to avoid such problems, compiling resources to give the Negro traveler information that will keep them from running into difficulties, embarrassments, and to make their trips more enjoyable.

From a New York-focused first edition published in 1936, Green expanded the work to cover much of North America, including most of the United States and parts of Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, and Bermuda. The Green Book was known as “the Bible of Black travel during Jim Crow,” enabling Black travelers to find lodgings, businesses, and gas stations that would serve them along the road. Shortly after the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which outlawed forms of racial discrimination, the Green Book ceased publication.

While racial discrimination is outlawed, racism is still a relevant and timely concept in the present day. The purpose of this resource guide, or Green Book, is for individuals within the Afro-descendant diaspora at UNLV to know what resources are available to them.

Know your history.
Carry this guide.
Value your life.

http://ala.org/advocacy/spectrum/apply
The scholarship is designed to encourage the entry of qualified persons into the library and automation field who plan to follow a career in that field; who demonstrate potential in, and a strong commitment to the use of automated systems in libraries; and who are qualified members of a principal minority group (American Indian or Alaskan native, Asian or Pacific Islander, African-American, or Hispanic). The recipient must be a U.S. or Canadian citizen.

This scholarship is for study in an ALA Accredited Master of Library Science (MLS) program.

Lockheed Martin STEM Scholarship Program
Lockheed Martin will award up to 200 renewable scholarships of $10,000 each. Awards are open to individuals studying eligible engineering or computer science majors, who demonstrate financial need and come from underrepresented or under-served communities.

The scholarship program doesn’t end with a check. Mentoring opportunities will be a key component of the program, and recipients will also be eligible for Lockheed Martin internship opportunities following their freshman, sophomore or junior year in college.

The American Federation of State, County, & Municipal Employees Union Scholars Program Summer Internship
http://afscme.org/organize/union-scholars
The Union Scholars Program is a 10-week summer internship for students of color who are passionate about social justice, with an emphasis on workers’ rights. Students will take part in a hands-on organizing experience with AFSCME members, and will enjoy an opportunity to travel and receive valuable, resume-building experience - all while getting paid.

Applicants must be an undergraduate sophomore or junior at the time of the application and the interview process; have a minimum 2.5 GPA, be a college student of color and demonstrate an interest in working for social and economic justice through the labor union movement.
Microsoft Scholarship Program
We strongly encourage underrepresented groups to pursue STEM fields of study. Because we greatly value a broad range of perspectives and contributions, a large majority of our scholarships will be awarded to female students, underrepresented minority students (African-American, Hispanic or Native American etc.) or students with disabilities. We will review all applications and select final candidates on the holistic basis of eligibility, quality of application, demonstrated passion for STEM, commitment to leadership and financial need.

Minorities in Government Finance Scholarship
In 1993, GFOA's Executive Board voted to create the Minorities in Government Finance Scholarship to recognize and encourage outstanding minority students enrolled in a course of study preparing for a career in state or local government finance.

Minority Scholarship in Classics and Classical Archaeology
The Committee on Minority Scholarships of the Society for Classical Studies (SCS) invites applications from minority undergraduate students for a scholarship to be awarded for the summer. The purpose of the scholarship is to further students’ preparation in classics or classical archaeology with opportunities not available during the school year. Eligible proposals might include (but are not limited to) participation in classical summer programs or field schools in Italy, Greece, Egypt, etc., or language training at institutions in the U.S, Canada, or Europe. Candidates will be judged on the basis of (a) their academic qualifications, especially in classics, including demonstrated ability in at least one classical language, or in fields that prepare a student to become an archaeologist, (b) the quality of their proposal for study particularly as preparation for plans after graduation, and (c) financial need. The application must be supported by a member of the SCS, and a statement must be included indicating that this is an appropriate candidate for the purposes of this scholarship.

Under the classification “minority” we include African-American, Hispanic-American, Asian-American, Native-American, and Pacific-Islander American students.

This scholarship is designed to encourage minorities, ages 17 and older, to enter into the field of strength and conditioning. Minority is defined as “ethnic minority,” as determined by the U.S. Census Bureau.

The applicant must be one of four ethnic qualifications: Black, Hispanic, Asian American, or Native American. Applicant must demonstrate they have been accepted into an accredited institution working toward an undergraduate or graduate degree in the strength and conditioning field. $1,500 awards are available. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

Pedro Zamora Public Policy Fellowship
http://aidsunited.org/Job-Opportunities/Pedro-Zamora-Public-Policy-Fellowship.aspx
The Pedro Zamora Public Policy Fellowship prepares current students or recent graduates for a lifetime of social justice advocacy. Working closely with the AIDS United Policy Department, Zamora Fellows gain a professional understanding of HIV, advocacy, and public policy and practical advocacy experience.

The America Federation, Country, & Municipal Employees Union Scholars Program Summer Internship
http://afscme.org/organize/union-scholars
The Union Scholars Program is a 10-week summer internship for students of color who are passionate about social justice, with an emphasis on workers’ rights. Students will take part in a hands-on organizing experience with AFSCME members, and will enjoy an opportunity to travel and receive valuable, resume-building experience - all while getting paid. Applicants must be an undergraduate sophomore or junior at the time of the application and the interview process; have a minimum 2.5 GPA, be a college student of color and demonstrate an interest in working for social and economic justice through the labor union movement. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.
The Herbert Lehman Education Fund Scholarship
http://naacpldf.org/about-us-scholarships/herbert-lehman-education-fund-scholarship
The mission of the Herbert Lehman Fund is to help transform the promise of racial equality into a social, economic, and political reality for all people by supporting talented undergraduate students who need financial help to stay in school and successfully complete their bachelor’s degree. Applicants must be African-American, graduating high school seniors; first-year students in an accredited four-year college; or students transferring to an accredited four-year college. Demonstrated financial need is required (must have a combined family income of $65,000 or less), as well as a commitment to public service. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

The LAGRANT Foundation Undergraduate Scholarships
http://lagrantfoundation.org/Undergraduate%20Scholarships
LAGRANT Foundation Undergraduate Scholarship recipients will receive a trip to Cincinnati, OH where they will participate in career building activities including a welcome dinner with a keynote speaker, two day long career & professional development workshops and a scholarship and donor recognition reception. Applicants must be from a minority ethnic group, studying a field of study that has an emphasis on advertising, marketing or public relations. A minimum 3.0 GPA is required. The winner must also make a one-year commitment to maintain contact with TLF to receive professional guidance and academic support. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

The Leon Bradley Scholarship
http://aaspa.org/leon-bradely-scholarship
The Leon Bradley Scholarship Program was established to encourage minorities to enter the field of teaching and school leadership. The American Association of School Personnel Administrators (AASPA) believes that it is beneficial for all students to experience diversity among the educators who serve as role models for our students. Thus, AASPA will annually award up to two scholarships to assist a minority college student seeking his/her initial teaching certification and/or endorsement and up to two scholarships to assist a minority graduate student seeking his/her administrative credential.

The Shawn Carter Scholarship Fund
http://shawncartersf.com/scholarship-fund/#eligibility
The Shawn Carter Scholarship Fund (SCSF) was founded on the belief that any motivated individual in need should have the opportunity to further his or her education. By removing some of the financial burdens associated with going to, surviving in, and graduating from college, the SCSF plays a vital role in increasing college access and success for many motivated yet undeserved youth and young adults.
WomenLead Scholarship
http://infaithfound.org/newsgrants/scholarships
WomenLead recognizes the need for diverse leadership in ministry, nonprofits, and public service and seeks to accelerate the extraordinary leadership of diverse women of faith to lead change by using their talents to educate, advocate, and activate.

Two educational scholarships in the amount of $3,000 will be awarded annually to women of Christian faith seeking a graduate degree that will prepare them to serve in public service, non-profit leadership, and/or in Christian ministry to enhance their professional and leadership development around the public good. Women of diverse backgrounds who are eager to lead through bold action, innovative vision, and faith-inspired passion are encouraged to apply.

Worldstudio AIGA Scholarship
http://aiga.org/worldstudio-scholarship
Worldstudio AIGA Scholarships benefit minority and economically disadvantaged students who are studying art and design disciplines in colleges and universities in the United States. Students must be U.S. citizens or be in possession of a green card, pursuing an undergraduate or graduate degree in one of the following disciplines: fine art, graphic design, illustration, interactive design, or photography. Preference is given to minority students.

A minimum 2.0 GPA is required and financial need must be demonstrated. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.
