For the Culture:
Resources for the African Diaspora
To the Students at UNLV within the Afrodescendant Diaspora,

You are embarking on a journey. A journey of growth, learning, and reflection.

Your journey at this university will not be easy, but it is our hope it will be worth it. Don’t let anyone treat you like a statistic, a token, or a quota. If you ever feel down during your time here, just remember you belong here. You are worthy, and the degrees you all are pursuing do not solely define you. At this university, and as a part of the Black community, we encourage you to challenge, critique, and ask questions.

You are worth more than test scores, your race is not a crime, and do not let your melanin be your melancholy; you were meant to be here. As Black faculty/staff, we see you, we hear you, and we are here to support you in the best way we can.

In Solidarity,

Black Faculty/Staff at UNLV

Student Diversity & Social Justice

Mission:

Student Diversity & Social Justice advocates with a diverse student population to amplify and affirm student’s identities through an intersectional framework to promote student success. We are a student-centered office committed to educating, empowering, and developing UNLV students as leaders to recognize and address societal injustices.

Vision:

Student Diversity & Social Justice (SDSJ) will provide transformative experiences to create a campus free of oppression and trauma through intentional engagement.

Values:

Student Centered | Advocacy | Intersectionality
Empowerment | Trauma Informed | Community

We acknowledge that we are on the ancestral lands of the Nuwuvi, Southern Paiute People. We acknowledge the Indigenous People of the lands where UNLV now stands – and recognize that these have always been places of teaching and learning. We wish to pay respect to their Elders – past, present and emerging – and acknowledge the important role Nuwuvi, Southern Paiute People, continue to play within the UNLV community. This acknowledgement and the centering of Native peoples is a start as we move forward for many years to come.
A Brief History

In order to know where you’re going, you need to know your history. Below is a brief timeline that talks about Black history specific to the Las Vegas community. Please note this is not an exhaustive timeline, as unfortunately, there are some historical events that have happened in Las Vegas that were not properly documented. As you navigate through life, always make sure you are doing whatever you can to protect our history. Our history is important, and it is crucial to preserve it, and prevent people from trying to erase it.

- 1872: John Howell purchases land to become the first Black land owner in Las Vegas
- 1904: The historic westside neighborhood is established (now present day Downtown Las Vegas)
- 1905: City of Las Vegas is established
- 1910: Census started to document Black-owned businesses
- 1917: First Black church, Zion Methodist Church is established
- 1925: The Ku Klux Klan led a march on Fremont Street
- 1926: The Las Vegas Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is formed
- 1931: Gambling was legalized in Las Vegas; Construction of the Boulder/Hoover Dam begins; Colored Citizen Protective Association is organized; US. District Courthouse opens
- 1932: Only 44 Black men were hired out of the 20,000 laborers who built the Boulder/Hoover Dam
- 1941: The Great Migration of Blacks from the south begins, primarily from Fordyce, AR and Tallulah, LA
- 1943: Carver Park constructed to house Blacks working at the Basic Magnesium plan in Henderson
- 1948: Verlene Stevens writes Black Society Column for the Las Vegas Review Journal
- 1952: Marble Manor housing project built (located on H. Street. and West Washington Avenue)
- 1954: Dr. Charles West becomes the first Black doctor in Las Vegas; historic Berkley Square neighborhood built (sits between H. Street and D. Street going north to south, and between W. Owens Avenue and Frederick Avenue going east to west)
- 1955: Dr. James McMillan becomes the first Black dentist in Las Vegas; Moulin Rouge Hotel opens
- 1959: Charles Kellar becomes the first Black attorney in Las Vegas
1960 Integration on Las Vegas Strip begins

1964 Economic Opportunity Board is established; Las Vegas starts granting licenses to Black Attorneys

1965 Economic Opportunity Board opens its first office; Dr. Bert Babero Sr. becomes first Black professor at UNLV (formerly known as Nevada Southern University)

1969 October race riot happens in Las Vegas

1971 Consent Decree issued to address issues of discrimination from the Las Vegas gaming industry toward Black employees; Dr. Esther Langston becomes first Black woman to serve as a Professor at UNLV

1972 Ruby Duncan, the Co-Founder of Operation Life, and the President of the Clark County Welfare Rights Organization, led a march on the Las Vegas Strip to advocate for welfare rights of Black people

1973 Professor Roosevelt Fitzgerald becomes first Black professor at UNLV in the department of Anthropology and Ethnic Studies

1976 Dr. Esther Langston becomes the first Black professor to earn tenure as a professor at UNLV

1992 Rodney King riot in California spills into Las Vegas

1998 Professor Rainier Spencer establishes the first Afro-American Studies program minor within the Nevada System of Higher Education to be taught at UNLV

2008 The Bachelors of Arts degree in Afro-American Studies is approved to be established at UNLV (Now known as African American and African Diasporic Studies)

2013 Palm Downtown Mortuary opens Civil Rights Movement Memorial; Les Femmes Douze (The Ladies Twelve), a Black women's empowerment organization for high school girls, celebrates 50th Anniversary

Berkley Square

Las Vegas, NV

It was built between 1954 and 1955 and was the first African American built subdivision in Nevada. Berkley Square, bounded by Byrnes Ave, D Street, Leonard Ave and G Street, was built to provide adequate housing for a growing African American community prior to the Civil Rights movement.

---

Moulin Rouge

Las Vegas, NV

The Moulin Rouge was the first racially integrated casino in the United States, located in Las Vegas’ historic Westside. People called it the “six month sensation” as it was only open for a short time, but had an empowering effect on the civil rights movement years after bankruptcy forced its doors to close.

Martin Luther King Jr. statue

North Las Vegas, NV

On January 20, 2001 the County unveiled a 5-ton bronze statue of Martin Luther King Jr. In the statue, King’s hands hold the U.S. Constitution, the Bible and the world. The artist, Allen, was quoted expressing her vision of the statue, “He holds the world out to you as if to say, and I've given my all. Now it's up to you. Treat the world gently. Remember what you do affect us all.”

The history of the Green Book

The Negro Motorist Green Book (also The Negro Travelers’ Green Book, or simply the Green Book) was an annual guidebook for African-American travelers. It was originated and published by New York City mailman, Victor Hugo Green from 1936 to 1966, during the era of Jim Crow laws, when open and often legally prescribed discrimination against African Americans and other non-whites was widespread. Although pervasive racial discrimination and poverty limited black car ownership, the emerging African-American middle class bought automobiles as soon as they could, but faced a variety of dangers and inconveniences along the road, from refusal of food and lodging to arbitrary arrest. In response, Green wrote his guide to services and places relatively friendly to African-Americans, eventually expanding its coverage from the New York area to much of North America, as well as founding a travel agency.

African-American travelers faced hardships such as white-owned businesses refusing to serve them or repair their vehicles, being refused accommodation or food by white-owned hotels, and threats of physical violence and forcible expulsion from whites-only “sundown towns”. Green founded and published the Green Book to avoid such problems, compiling resources to give the Negro traveler information that will keep them from running into difficulties, embarrassments, and to make their trips more enjoyable.

From a New York-focused first edition published in 1936, Green expanded the work to cover much of North America, including most of the United States and parts of Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, and Bermuda. The Green Book was known as “the Bible of Black travel during Jim Crow,” enabling Black travelers to find lodgings, businesses, and gas stations that would serve them along the road. Shortly after the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which outlawed forms of racial discrimination, the Green Book ceased publication.

While racial discrimination is outlawed, racism is still a relevant and timely concept in the present day. The purpose of this resource guide, or Green Book, is for individuals within the Afro-descendant diaspora at UNLV to know what resources are available to them.

African American and African Diaspora Studies Program (AAS)

The African American and African Diaspora Studies Program is offered under the auspices of the Department of Interdisciplinary, Gender, and Ethnic Studies. Students may major or minor in African American and African Diaspora Studies. The program is designed to provide students with the critical tools required, and to expose them to the historical knowledge and current research necessary, for an informed understanding of Black experiences today. With courses ranging from the Atlantic Slave Trade to Black Power/Thought to Black Sexualities to Black Performance, the program is built around a core of courses that systematically document critical aspects of African-American experiences from its antecedents in antiquity to the prominent issues of the present day. Engaging both past and contemporary aspects of this experience provides students access to materials and events that have historically not been given adequate treatment, and allows students to contextualize current issues relating to African-Americans in an academically critical way.

The primary objective of the program is for students to gain a solid foundation in the history and culture of African-Americans from before the beginnings of slavery in British North America up to the present time. This foundation is a historically and critically contextualized one in that the African American and African Diaspora Studies Program does not start with the assumption that Afro-American history begins in 1619. Rather, the program very specifically reaches much farther back in history in order to allow students to gain an appreciation of the ways that global economic systems, technological advances, and political change contributed to the environment that made the introduction of Africans to British North America in 1619 possible.

A secondary objective is for students to be able to concentrate their studies on particular areas of interest within an overall African American and African Diaspora Studies framework. With affiliated faculty in other UNLV departments, the African American and African Diaspora Studies Program is especially suited to meet this objective. Related to both of the above objectives is the tertiary objective for graduates of the program to be well prepared for post-baccalaureate work in African American and African Diaspora Studies. An undergraduate degree in African American and African Diaspora Studies gives potential graduate students the firm foundation necessary for engaging the more complex material they will encounter in graduate programs focused on African American and African Diaspora Studies.

Goldman Sachs Scholarship for Excellence
http://goldmansachs.com/careers/students/programs/americas/scholarship-for-excellence.html
This scholarship is available to Black, Latino, and Native American undergraduate students who are interested in the financial services industry. You must have a minimum 3.4 GPA, demonstrate team-oriented leadership, and be involved in service to your campus and/or community to be eligible for this award.
Government Finance Professional Development Scholarship

In 2010, GFOA's Executive Board voted to create the Government Finance Professional Development Scholarship to support the studies of part-time students with a career interest in state & local government finance.

International Association of Black Actuaries Scholarship

http://actfnd.academicworks.com/opportunities/142

The IABA Scholarship Program provides scholarships at the undergraduate and graduate level for black students who are interested in pursuing actuarial careers. Many IABA Scholarship recipients receive internship or entry-level job offers as a result of their scholarship.

Jeannette Rankin Women’s Scholarship

http://rankinfoundation.org

Jeannette Rankin Women’s Scholarship Fund (JRF) provides scholarships and support for low-income women ages thirty-five and older across the US to build better lives through post-secondary education. 87% of Scholars either graduate or continue on towards completing their degrees. 75% of JRF Scholars are single mothers, setting an example to their children to earn a college degree. 55% of JRF Scholars report that without the JRF Scholarship, they would not be able to continue their education.

Jeffrey L. Esser Career Development Scholarship

In 2017, GFOA's Executive Board voted to create the Jeffrey L. Esser Career Development Scholarship to advance the public finance careers of individuals employed at least three years by one or more state or local governments.

Library and Information Technology Association and Library Systems and Services Minority Scholarship

http://ala.org/advocacy/spectrum/apply

The scholarship is designed to encourage the entry of qualified persons into the library and automation field who plan to follow a career in that field; who demonstrate potential in, and a strong commitment to the use of automated systems in libraries; and who are qualified members of a principal minority group (American Indian or Alaskan native, Asian or Pacific Islander, African-American, or Hispanic). The recipient must be a U.S. or Canadian citizen.

This scholarship is for study in an ALA Accredited Master of Library Science (MLS) program.
Lockheed Martin STEM Scholarship Program
Lockheed Martin will award up to 200 renewable scholarships of $10,000 each. Awards are open to individuals studying eligible engineering or computer science majors, who demonstrate financial need and come from underrepresented or under-served communities.

The scholarship program doesn't end with a check. Mentoring opportunities will be a key component of the program, and recipients will also be eligible for Lockheed Martin internship opportunities following their freshman, sophomore or junior year in college.

Microsoft Scholarship Program
We strongly encourage underrepresented groups to pursue STEM fields of study. Because we greatly value a broad range of perspectives and contributions, a large majority of our scholarships will be awarded to female students, underrepresented minority students (African-American, Hispanic or Native American etc.) or students with disabilities. We will review all applications and select final candidates on the holistic basis of eligibility, quality of application, demonstrated passion for STEM, commitment to leadership and financial need.

Minorities in Government Finance Scholarship
In 1993, GFOA’s Executive Board voted to create the Minorities in Government Finance Scholarship to recognize and encourage outstanding minority students enrolled in a course of study preparing for a career in state or local government finance.

Minority Scholarship in Classics and Classical Archaeology
The Committee on Minority Scholarships of the Society for Classical Studies (SCS) invites applications from minority undergraduate students for a scholarship to be awarded for the summer. The purpose of the scholarship is to further students’ preparation in classics or classical archaeology with opportunities not available during the school year. Eligible proposals might include (but are not limited to) participation in classical summer programs or field schools in Italy, Greece, Egypt, etc., or language training at institutions in the U.S, Canada, or Europe.

Candidates will be judged on the basis of (a) their academic qualifications, especially in classics, including demonstrated ability in at least one classical language, or in fields that prepare a student to become an archaeologist, (b) the quality of their proposal for study particularly as preparation for plans after graduation, and (c) financial need. The application must be supported by a member of the SCS, and a statement must be included indicating that this is an appropriate candidate for the purposes of this scholarship.

Under the classification “minority” we include African-American, Hispanic-American, Asian-American, Native-American, and Pacific-Islander American students.
Morgan Stanley Richard B. Fisher Scholarship Program
The Richard B. Fisher Scholarship program is a competitive undergraduate scholarship program established to provide outstanding Black, Hispanic, Native American and LGBT students with a financial award for exceptional academic achievement and a summer internship the summer prior to their junior or senior year in college.
In order to apply, you must be currently enrolled as a sophomore or junior at an undergraduate institution. For more information or to apply, please visit the website.

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Educational Partnership Program and Serving Institution Undergraduate Scholarship

The goal of the EPP Undergraduate Scholars Program is to increase the number of students who undertake course work and graduate with degrees in targeted academic fields integral to NOAA’s mission. This program targets students who have completed their sophomore year, attending minority serving institutions (MSIs), and have recently declared, or about to declare a major in atmospheric, oceanic, or environmental disciplines that support these sciences.

You must be a U.S. citizen currently enrolled or accepted as a full-time, second-year student in a four-year academic program or a third-year student in a five-year program in a discipline related to NOAA’s programs and mission at an accredited minority-serving institution (college or university within the United States or U.S. territories). Applicants must earn and maintain a minimum 3.2 GPA. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

National Strength and Conditioning Association Minority Scholarship
http://nsca.com/about-us/nsca-foundation/scholarships

This scholarship is designed to encourage minorities, ages 17 and older, to enter into the field of strength and conditioning. Minority is defined as “ethnic minority,” as determined by the U.S. Census Bureau.

The applicant must be one of four ethnic qualifications: Black, Hispanic, Asian American, or Native American. Applicant must demonstrate they have been accepted into an accredited institution working toward an undergraduate or graduate degree in the strength and conditioning field. $1,500 awards are available. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

National Strength and Conditioning Association Minority Scholarship (2)
http://nsca.com/about-us/nsca-foundation/scholarships

This scholarship is designed to support those who identify as female, ages 17 and older, to enter into the field of strength and conditioning. Applicants must demonstrate they have been accepted into an accredited institution and are working toward an undergraduate or graduate degree in the strength and conditioning field. $1,500 awards are available.

Pedro Zamora Public Policy Fellowship
http://aidsunited.org/Job-Opportunities/Pedro-Zamora-Public-Policy-Fellowship.aspx

The Pedro Zamora Public Policy Fellowship prepares current students or recent graduates for a lifetime of social justice advocacy. Working closely with the AIDS United Policy Department, Zamora Fellows gain a professional understanding of HIV, advocacy, and public policy and practical advocacy experience.
The America Federation, Country, & Municipal Employees Union Scholars Program Summer Internship

http://afscme.org/organize/union-scholars

The Union Scholars Program is a 10-week summer internship for students of color who are passionate about social justice, with an emphasis on workers’ rights. Students will take part in a hands-on organizing experience with AFSCME members, and will enjoy an opportunity to travel and receive valuable, resume-building experience—all while getting paid. Applicants must be an undergraduate sophomore or junior at the time of the application and the interview process; have a minimum 2.5 GPA, be a college student of color and demonstrate an interest in working for social and economic justice through the labor union movement. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

The Herbert Lehman Education Fund Scholarship

http://naacpldf.org/about-us-scholarships/herbert-lehman-education-fund-scholarship

The mission of the Herbert Lehman Fund is to help transform the promise of racial equality into a social, economic, and political reality for all people by supporting talented undergraduate students who need financial help to stay in school and successfully complete their bachelor’s degree. Applicants must be African-American, graduating high school seniors; first-year students in an accredited four-year college; or students transferring to an accredited four-year college. Demonstrated financial need is required (must have a combined family income of $65,000 or less), as well as a commitment to public service. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

The LAGRANT Foundation Undergraduate Scholarships

http://lagrantfoundation.org/Undergraduate%20Scholarships

LAGRANT Foundation Undergraduate Scholarship recipients will receive a trip to Cincinnati, OH where they will participate in career building activities including a welcome dinner with a keynote speaker, two day-long career & professional development workshops and a scholarship and donor recognition reception. Applicants must be from a minority ethnic group, studying a field of study that has an emphasis on advertising, marketing or public relations. A minimum 3.0 GPA is required. The winner must also make a one-year commitment to maintain contact with TLF to receive professional guidance and academic support. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.

The Leon Bradley Scholarship

http://aaspa.org/leon-bradely-scholarship

The Leon Bradley Scholarship Program was established to encourage minorities to enter the field of teaching and school leadership. The American Association of School Personnel Administrators (AASPA) believes that it is beneficial for all students to experience diversity among the educators who serve as role models for our students. Thus, AASPA will annually award up to two scholarships to assist a minority college student seeking his/her initial teaching certification and/or endorsement and up to two scholarships to assist a minority graduate student seeking his/her administrative credential.
The Shawn Carter Scholarship Fund
http://shawncartersf.com/scholarship-fund/#eligibility

The Shawn Carter Scholarship Fund (SCSF) was founded on the belief that any motivated individual in need should have the opportunity to further his or her education.

By removing some of the financial burdens associated with going to, surviving in, and graduating from college, the SCSF plays a vital role in increasing college access and success for many motivated yet undeserved youth and young adults.

WomenLead Scholarship
http://infaithfound.org/newsgrants/scholarships

WomenLead recognizes the need for diverse leadership in ministry, nonprofits, and public service and seeks to accelerate the extraordinary leadership of diverse women of faith to lead change by using their talents to educate, advocate, and activate.

Two educational scholarships in the amount of $3,000 will be awarded annually to women of Christian faith seeking a graduate degree that will prepare them to serve in public service, non-profit leadership, and/or in Christian ministry to enhance their professional and leadership development around the public good. Women of diverse backgrounds who are eager to lead through bold action, innovative vision, and faith-inspired passion are encouraged to apply.

Worldstudio AIGA Scholarship
http://aiga.org/worldstudio-scholarship

Worldstudio AIGA Scholarships benefit minority and economically disadvantaged students who are studying art and design disciplines in colleges and universities in the United States. Students must be U.S. citizens or be in possession of a green card, pursuing an undergraduate or graduate degree in one of the following disciplines: fine art, graphic design, illustration, interactive design, or photography. Preference is given to minority students.

A minimum 2.0 GPA is required and financial need must be demonstrated. For more information or to apply, please visit the scholarship provider’s website.
