

We are proud to be the first university in the country to launch goals coaching powered by U.S. Bank: a free, personalized experience to prepare you for success beyond your career.

Goals coaching is available to all UNLV students and alumni, as one of the ways UNLV supports your success in school and after graduation.

Meaningful guidance where money meets life.

Whether you're thinking about growing your career, paying off debt, or making a difference in the world – a goals coach can help you find the focus, inspiration and practical steps to achieve what matters most.

Meet your coaches.

Goals coaches are U.S. Bank employees trained in behavioral science and goal achievement. They can help you work on financial, career or life goals, and they'll never sell you banking products. Simply select a button below the coach you'd like to meet.

Meet with Coach Eddie Rivera

Professional background includes: Executive Coach, Leadership Strategist, and Director of Human Resources

“Don't let the circumstances define you or confine you — make them refine you.”

Meet with Coach John Hirano

Professional background includes: Engineering Design, Academics, and Executive Director

“I look forward to the opportunity to listen to people's stories and help them to see and write the future they desire.”

Meet with Coach Marta Depczynska

Professional background includes: Higher Education Enrollment Advisor and Rehabilitation Counselor

“We all need someone to keep us accountable when we are designing our future. I'm here to give you a little nudge and a lot of support while you implement the actions to your destiny.”

For more information about goals coaching, please visit usbank.com/exploremygoals.