The specific individuals noted above would likely be devoted at least ½ time to activities in their defined areas, if not more. Subject matter experts in some areas may have much less percent of time expended on the project.

There would be many individuals involved below these listings, but the key areas are noted above, and once they were put into place they would need to identify the other key individuals to be involved, and for what specific activities.