

FACULTY INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AWARDS: SUMMER 2017

The Office of International Programs invites faculty members who wish to participate in UNLV sponsored study abroad programs to apply for scholarship funding for summer, 2017. The Faculty International Development Award will be credited to a UNLV sponsored language program for one summer session. Awards include the cost of tuition and fees, round-trip group airfare, and a housing stipend of approximately $600.00. Applicants must be full-time assistant, associate, or full professors with limited experience living abroad. Applicants must be returning on contract to UNLV in 2017-2018. Contact the Office of International Programs for more information regarding the application process.

Application deadline: November 17, 2016
