UNLV NATIVE AMERICAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

About our organization

UNLV Native American Student Association will serve as a social organization dedicated to the preservation of Native culture and the educational attainment at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. UNLV NASA provides members with a social network of fellow Native students, involvement opportunities, resources, and experiences necessary for success in collegiate life and beyond.

About the events

MISS NATIVE UNLV PAGEANT
Along with the pow wow is the reintroduction of the Miss Native UNLV Pageant. Oct. 4th, 2018 Thursday 5-8pm Student Union Ballroom A. Dinner, raffle prizes, and a chance to see the new royalty be crowned! Who will be Miss Native UNLV?

UNLV INDIGENOUS PEOPLES’ DAY POW WOW
"A celebration of Resilience"

As of 2017, Mayor Carolyn Goodman declared that October 9th of every year is Indigenous Peoples’ Day in the City of Las Vegas. This was a milestone accomplishment for UNLV NASA who has been leading this initiative since 2015. In 2017 we celebrated the first Indigenous Peoples’ Day celebration at UNLV with members of the Southern Paiute community, elected officials, campus and community at large. With the help of UNLV, we can continue this celebration annually as an Intertribal two-day pow wow. This would provide an opportunity for the daring, different, and diverse Indigenous student groups to celebrate and educate others about their cultures. Having a two day contest pow wow will encourage people from other states to come see what UNLV has to offer for culturally based programs. With the one year anniversary of the shooting incident on the Las Vegas Strip, this event will provide a space to promote healing and community. This truly will be a #Vegasstrongpowwow to celebrate the resilience of all people.
