The Future of Cybercrime
Marc Goodman

Marc Goodman, from the UNLV Emergency Management Cybersecurity Program, will present an exciting lecture on the cutting-edge trends driving cybercrime and the growing field of cybersecurity. In addition to discussing technological advances made in the cyber sphere, he will review the many educational and career opportunities available. Goodman is a New York Times best-selling author, global strategist, and consultant who has worked with organizations including INTERPOL, the U.N. Counterterrorism Task Force, NATO, the FBI, and the U.S. Government.

Wednesday, April 3rd, 2019 from 1PM to 2PM
Greenspun Hall Auditorium

Contact Dory Mizrachi at 702-895-0206 or dory.mizrachi@unlv.edu for more information.